SCHOOL LIFE

You will have an analysis of Henry V due on January 4 . . . Are you coming to the School Beautiful parking lot sweep tomorrow? . . .

. . . I know there's a question that none of you have asked and that's "How do Jews feel about Jesus?"

"At summer's end—this is Grimsley as few people see her"

Mrs. Oakley (above) greets her sophomore homeroom on their first day of high school. The school store (right) does a constant business. After orientation, students flock home (below) to their last half-day of vacation.

*Willing to do and to understand,
we return from mind-rusting summer to imperious bells and routines*

Summer minds are rusty machinery covered with dust. The slamming of lockers, the filling out of forms, the ringing of bells all bring us back into school to oil and clean out our machinery. We have come here to gain understanding—whether it is of a Math problem, of a friend's dilemma, or of ourselves.

Part of that understanding is discovering our identity. We are called many things: "young adults," adolescents," "kids"—even the "Pepsi generation." We do not have a name, for we are so very different. Attitudes and personalities are so diverse that one name cannot be applied to us as a whole. One thing we do have in common—we have arrived to take another stab at higher learning.

what's going on"*

The mold is set.

Flurrytime is over . . . fees are paid and records are recorded.
Now you know whether you can do your Algebra during Spanish,
And which teachers allow bare feet.
Now you know which excuses are most plausible,
And which classes are educational experiences,
Times of reverie, or just plain naptimes.
Settle back, take a deep breath and begin.

Though the voting was steady (left), not even fifty per cent of the student body turned out to vote. (Below) Candidates spent time and energy to create their eye-catching campaign posters. Election committee members become involved in a chess game (bottom) during a lull in the voting.

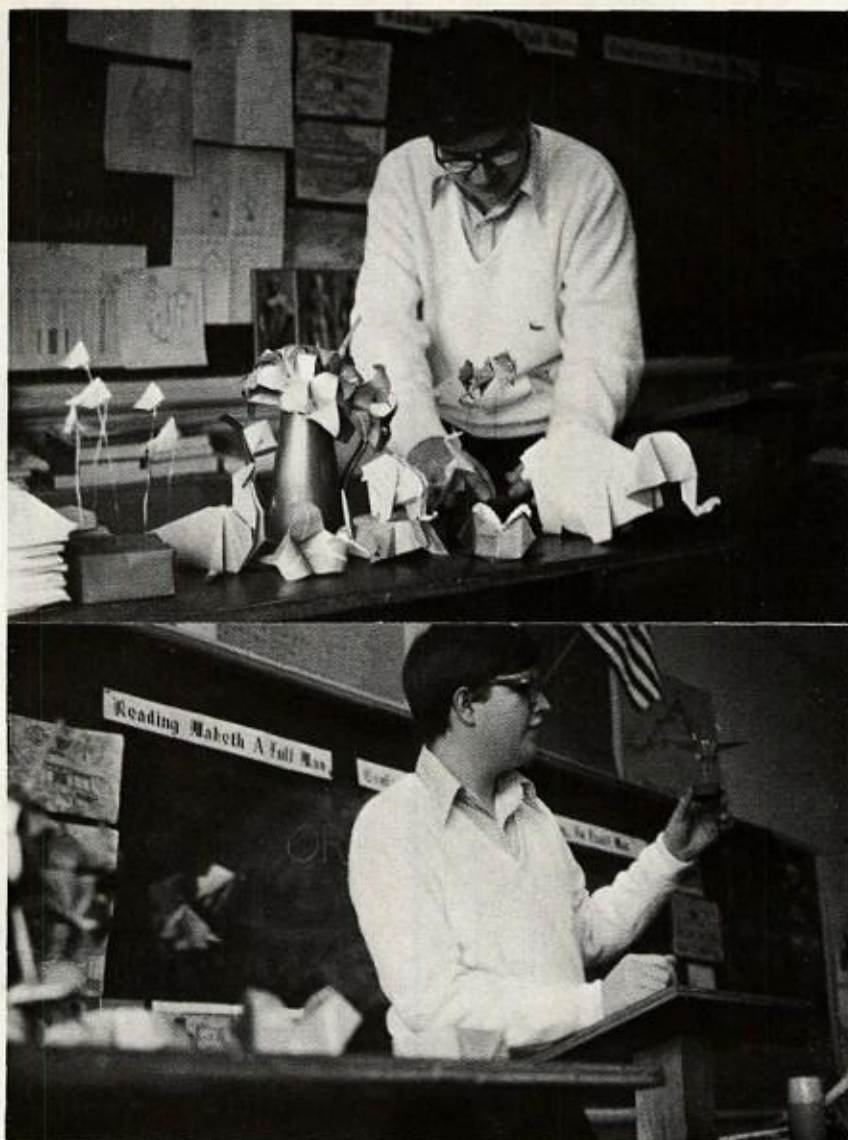

"The students didn't appreciate the candidates . . . and I was a candidate!"

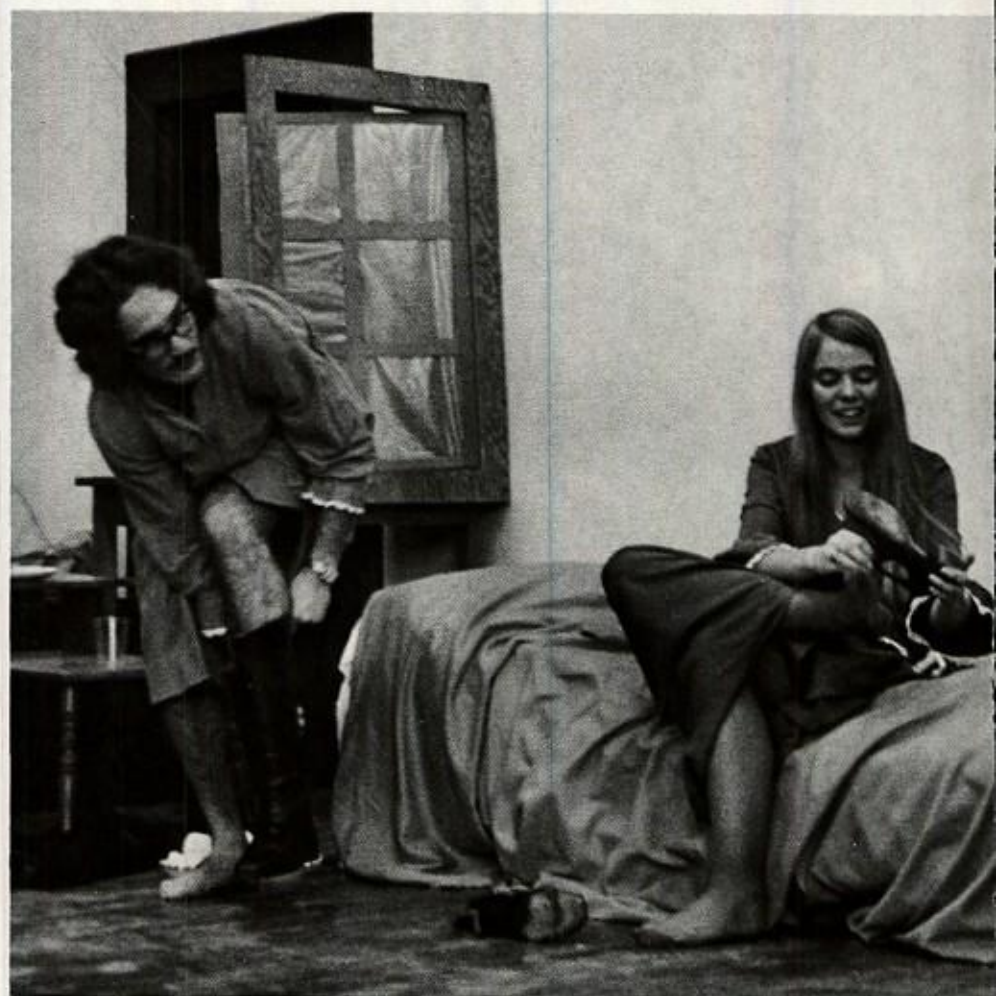

Apathy, the curse of any school, appears more at election time than at all the games and dances combined. The GHS elections held in October were no exception. Students that did work, however, endeavored to generate school spirit with posters and speeches, for there were dozens of Student Council and YRC members and officers to be elected.

Under the diligent supervision of the well-organized and devoted Interim Committee, the campaign assemblies and voting came off without a hitch.

(Below) A student asks Mrs. Hoffler about the second semester schedule for Humanities B.

English gives students a wider view of their own and other cultures

With the beginning of this school year, a new English program was in its second consecutive year. Individual junior and senior Whirlies, armed with an array of different courses, had the privilege of selecting their own English courses. Sophomores, those poor underprivileged souls, were still obligated to register for Introductory Language Arts for the fall semester. However a select few adequately qualified sophomores were allowed to elect a different course for the spring semester.

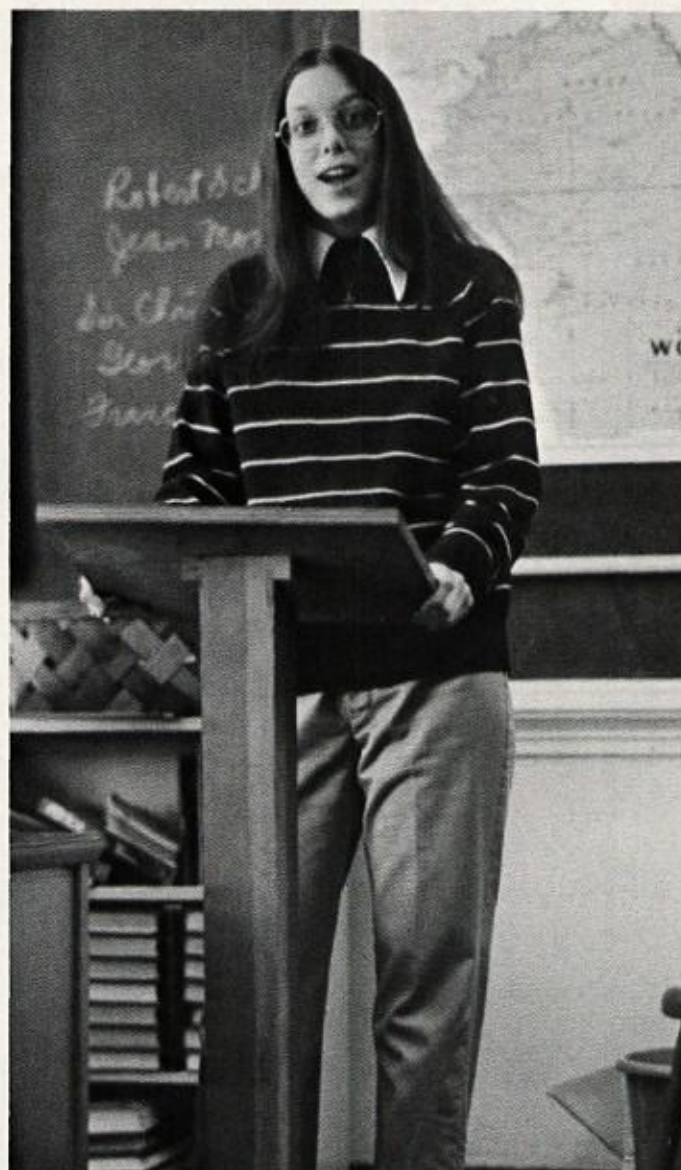

The English plan, although new, still contained unchangeable vocabulary lists, some of the selfsame literature, and those never-ending compositions. The curriculum was comprised of one-semester courses, ranging from Ethnic Literature to Drama, to Advanced Composition, to Literature of the Bible. These varied courses enabled a student to indulge his personal interests, as well as offering each student a chance to enjoy English.

In new Social Studies curriculum, more vital courses replace traditional approach

Remember the days, Seniors, when history meant studying past events that one did not really care about? Those days are of yesteryear. This year a new program—not history but social studies—was initiated. The new curriculum represents the old attitudes.

By replacing the worn-out courses with new and exciting ones, the Social Studies Department has offered the students the chance to follow their own natural interests. There is no longer an excuse for a student to be bored or disinterested in social studies. Certainly one of the offered courses would interest him. The old black-and-white curriculum has been replaced by blazing technicolor.

*"It's different this year,
but I'm glad — really glad —
I came home"*

"Here I am at Homecoming. It's different from other years, mainly because I'm a graduate who has come home. All these familiar faces in a very familiar place—the football stadium. Nostalgia is really something I don't experience very often, but that's the only word that can describe my bittersweet mood. That the Whirlies are winning makes the evening even more special . . . I'm glad I brought this blanket. Sure is cold. I'm also glad—really glad—I came home."

With the theme of Disney World, this year's Homecoming turned out quite successfully. Club projects were displayed on the front lawn all day Friday, October 20, and showed hours of hard work by club members. The pep rally included a mock Homecoming Court with Scott Dowda as "Queen". The real Homecoming Court was full of girls who had showed school spirit by performing various services for GHS. The maids of honor were Leigh Salls and Sherri Blount, and the Homecoming Queen, crowned by Mr. Glenn, was Kathy Whitcomb. To make the season even more special was the fact that GHS won the game, defeating Reynolds with a score of 15-12.

*"Some days really are . . . but today
just was."*

People,
Beautiful, warm, loving people . . .
Laughing or serious, studious or carefree,
All as unique and special as snowflakes,
Each with his own separate niche
And his own special set of cares and joys.
They are everywhere:
Laughing on the stairs or reading in the library,
Sleeping in class or meditating on a bus . . .
All one has to do is look
And one need never be lonely again.
Let's face it, we're all Whirlies.

(Below) Western Day brought many surprises to Grimsley. (Bottom) "ALL HAIL TO THEE, OUR ALMA MATER STRONG."

"We don't mess around! Hey! We don't mess around!"

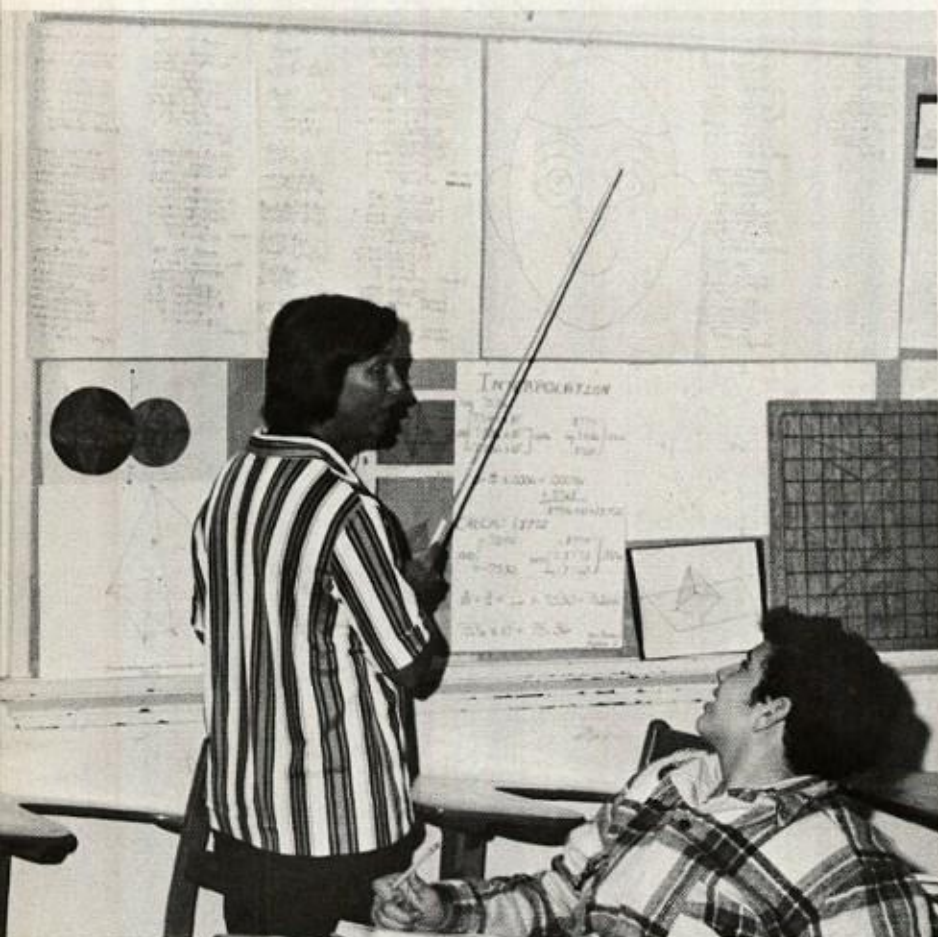

School spirit—the joy of defeating another team, the loyalty to Whirlie tradition, and the feeling of unity with other Grimsley students. Whether it is expressed by screaming our lungs out at a football game, voting at elections, participating in "Fifties Day" (bobby sox and all), or putting a suggestion in the Suggestion Box, school spirit is an important part of life at Grimsley.

One aspect of this spirit lasts, not just during football season, but all year long. Little acts, such as returning a library book on time, giving a sophomore a ride to lunch, and saying a cheery "Good morning" to disgruntled security counselors are all a part of this phase of school spirit. This "helping hand" attitude is just as important to the school as the "Fight, team, fight!" spirit. School spirit is alive and well and kicking in the hearts of Whirlies.

Mrs. Ledford (right) explains the principle behind arithmetic sequences. Mrs. Warren (below) shows students detailed extra credit work done by ambitious algebra students.

Confusing concepts continue to challenge math students

Conversation with a math test:

"What's the buzz?" I asked the Radical.

"I don't know why everyone has trouble understanding me. I'm not that complex!" exclaimed the Radical.

"You are unreal, you know," I said.

"I'm beginning to think I need an operation!" he confessed.

"I'm inclined to believe that!" I said. "After all, it's because of you that my grades turned out inversely proportional."

"At least I'm looking at the positive side of things!" said the Radical, now so upset he almost inverted.

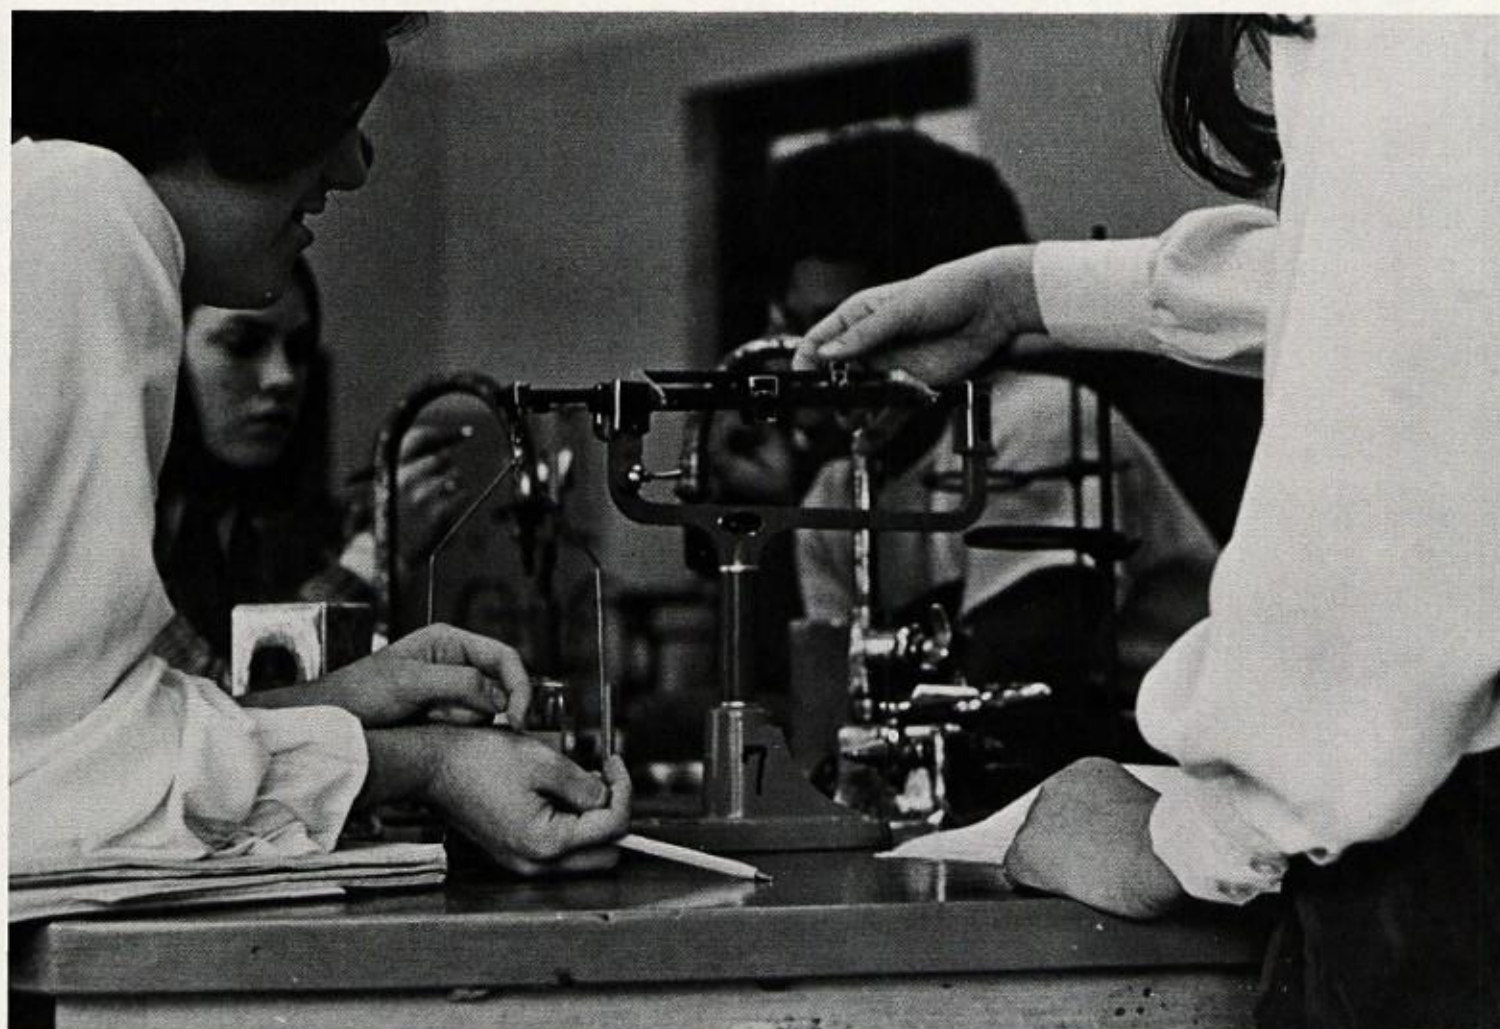

"But you're not being rational," I soothed.

"I guess you're right," sighed the Radical. "Maybe someday somebody will realize that I'm as American as apple pi."

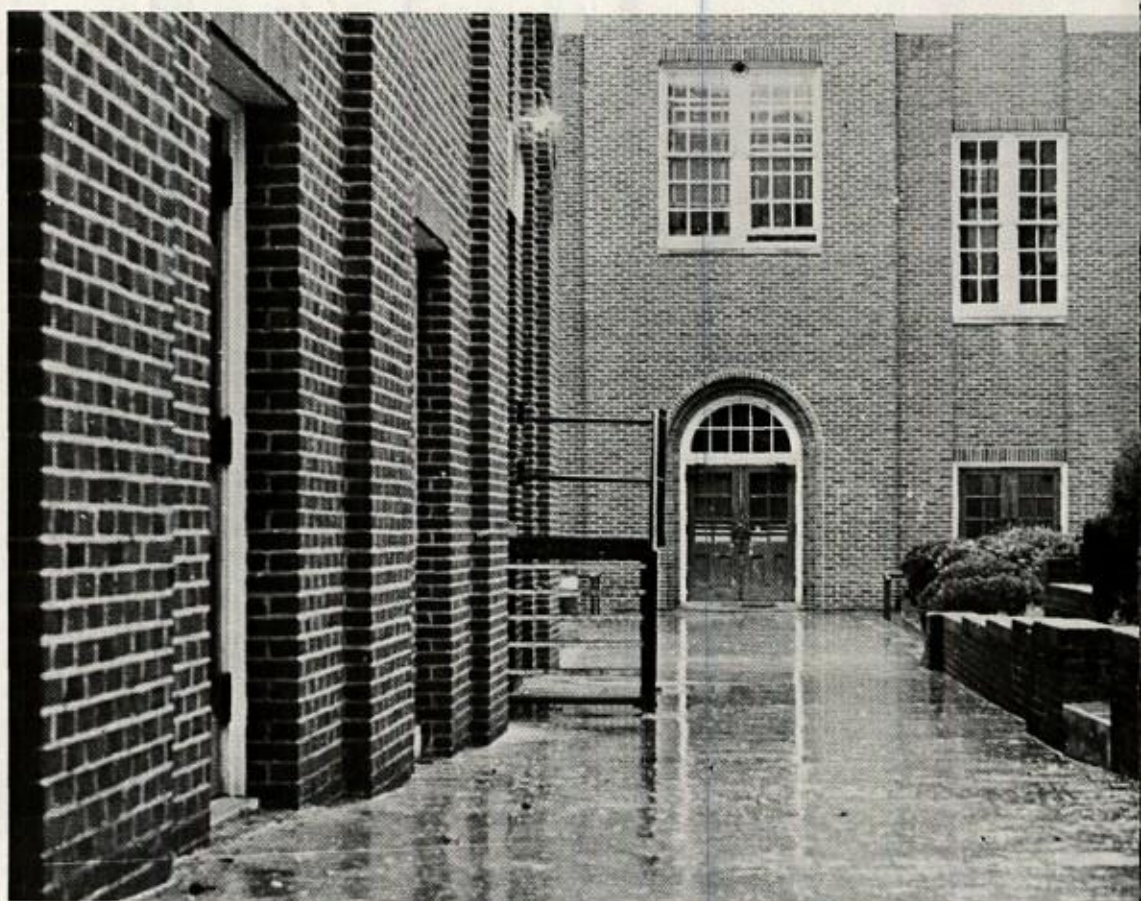

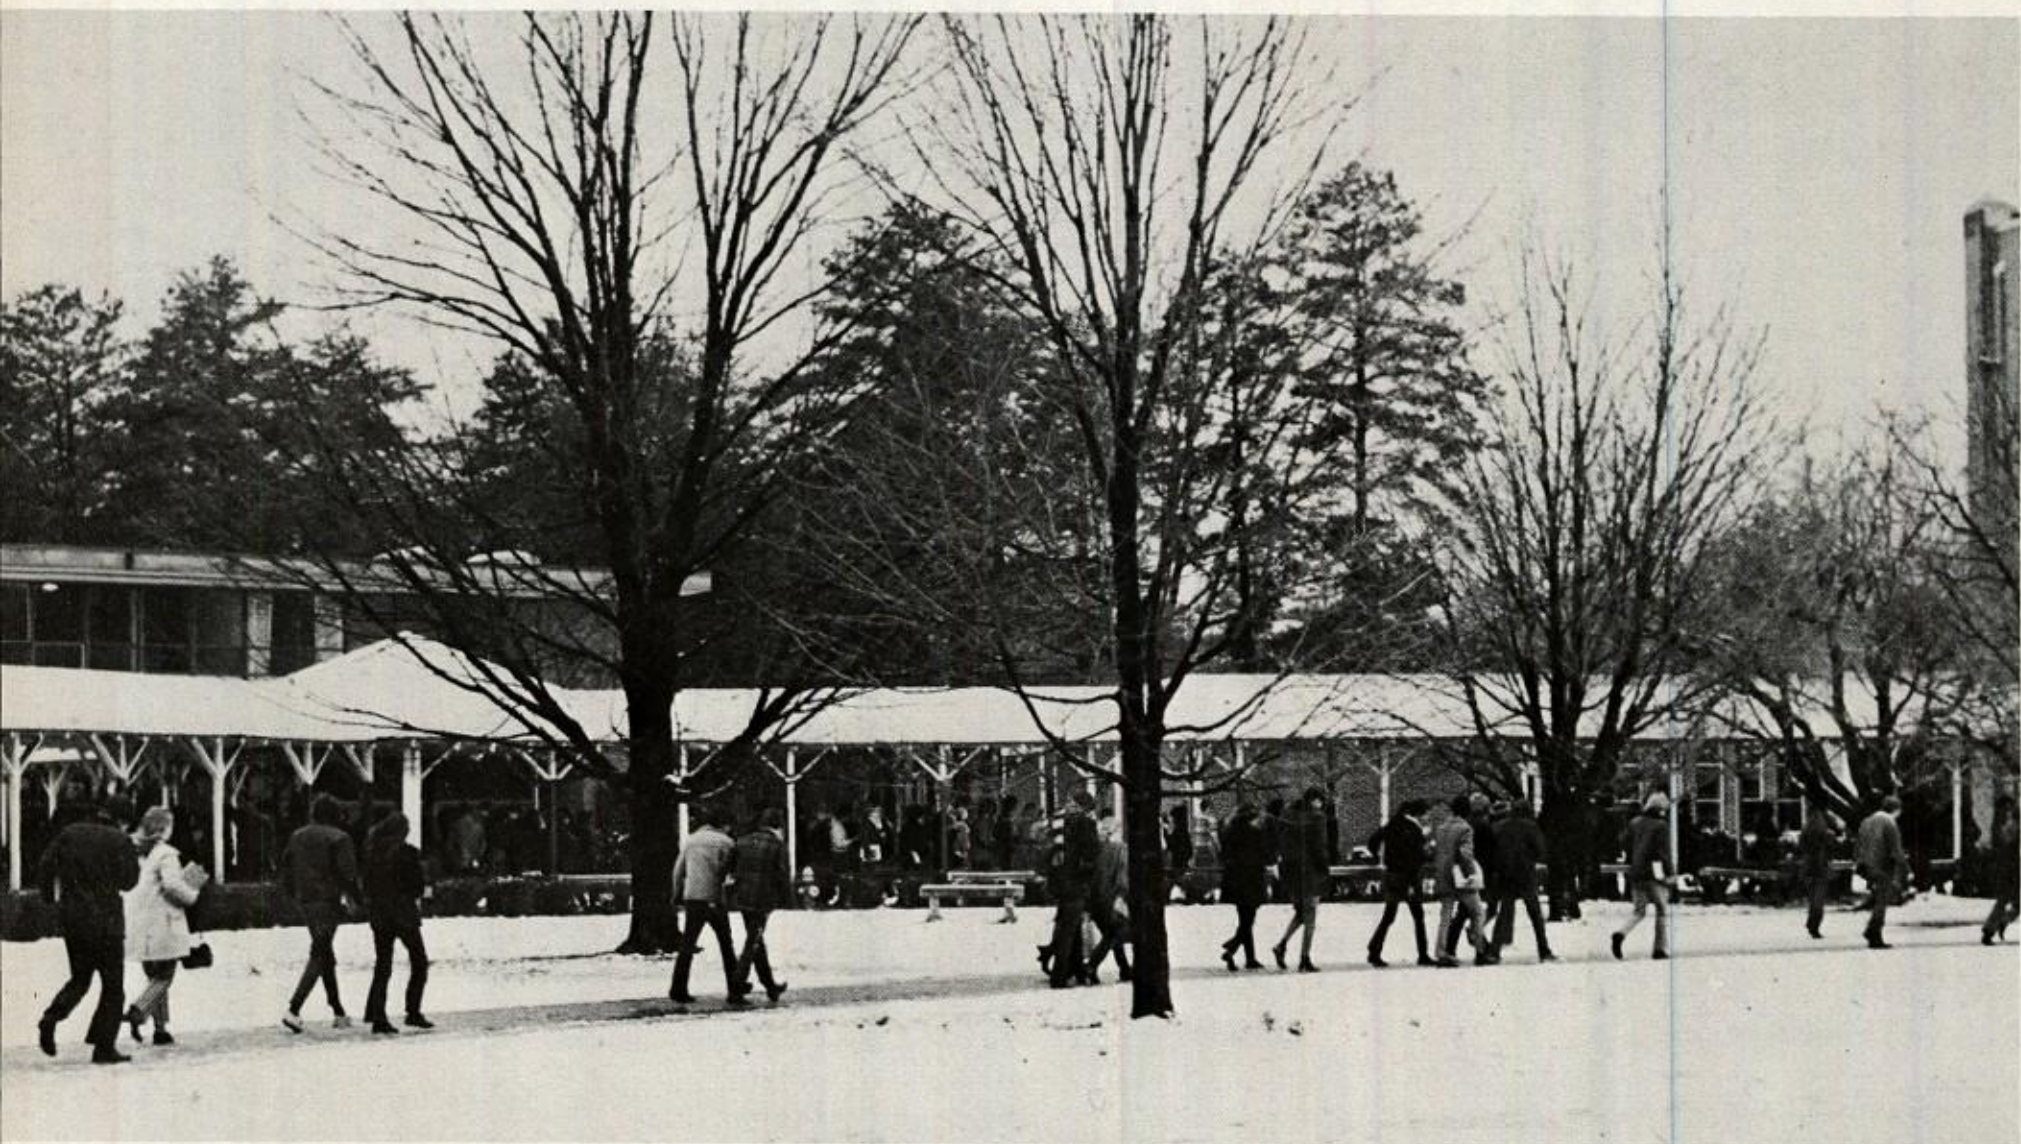

The Math department, with its abstruse terms and concepts, once again succeeded in filling classrooms with puzzled and sleepy looks. For those students lucky enough to pass Geometry and Algebra II with a minimum of confusion, this department offered Trigonometry, Calculus, Advanced Algebra, and Computer Science.

*Potential Einsteins
strive to master
the basics of science*

Though many students take science for granted, the things taught in science classes are full of the forces of our very lives. Sophomores, after being surprised to find that there are classrooms (not swimming pools) on top of the science building, finally settled down to the smell of formaldehyde and profitable relationships with dead frogs. Juniors and seniors moved on to more challenging things in chemistry, where, along with spilled solutions and blown-up buildings, are weighed results and complicated problems. The shapes of molecules and atomic forces helped students to understand the life forces in their existence. Advanced Biology and Physics created further challenges to industrious seniors.

(Top right) Even though the holiday season is fast approaching, school work continues in every form. Grimsley students (right) kid around on a church ski trip.

"O-o-o-oh, it's so co-o-old!"

Let's go stand next to the radiator!"

The chill in the air affirms winter's arrival. We have experienced Thanksgiving, the leaves changing color, and the very blue skies of Autumn, and now a peace settles inside us. Snow brings true joy felt by those students ready for a vacation. Now they can build snowmen instead of building grammar.

In December, schedules are full of engagements and homework is more likely to be forgotten. But all the forgotten homework catches up with us after Christmas when exams loom ahead. The decorations are down; the atmosphere is back to normal. School begins to become drudgery as winter wears on, and spring seems so very far away. Even if we do flunk a few tests, and turn in a few late reports, we know we will make it. We always do.

*"I'm hot. I'm bored.
How many more weeks
left in the year?"*

Slow spring — achingly, maddeningly so — I have so much to do . . .
I'm tired of waiting for you to crawl out of the way.
Look out that window. So much going on outside . . .
So much growing and youth, green grass and sunshine.
I just know it would be much more educational for me to be outside . . . running, getting suntanned, swimming, laughing, and having fun.
S-i-g-h . . .
Hurry, spring, please?

French and Spanish Clubs are welcomed to Foreign Language Department

Although the streamlining of the Foreign Language Department from eight to six teachers has forced a greater load, the staff has proven very adaptable. Mrs. Oakley, upper level French teacher, was voted Teacher of the Year for 1972 by the GHS student body. Following last year's Level I classes, this year's Level II classes received a new textbook. French and Spanish clubs were formed for the first time in several years. Latin classes, not to be outdone, however, threw a Virgil party on his 2042nd birthday. (Surprise, Virgil!) The Grimsley Foreign Language Department has again remained a valuable asset to the academic curriculum.

Home Ec Department introduces the mysteries of domestic engineering to boys

One of the most varied and diverse departments at Grimsley is the Home Economics Department. In the first and second year Home Ec courses the curriculum includes clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, and houses and home furnishings. Family Life classes and Foods classes are also taught.

Home Economics has, until recently, been considered a totally feminine department. However, a class is now included in the curriculum called Boys Home Ec. In this class units on housing, foods, textiles and consumer buying are covered.

Girls in Food and Nutrition (left) wear pedometers to see how many miles are traveled in preparing an average meal. In Grimsley's Child Care Program (top) children string beads, blocks, and bells from some original creations. (Above) Working with children brings out the best in most people and Barbara Roger's halo is evidence of this.

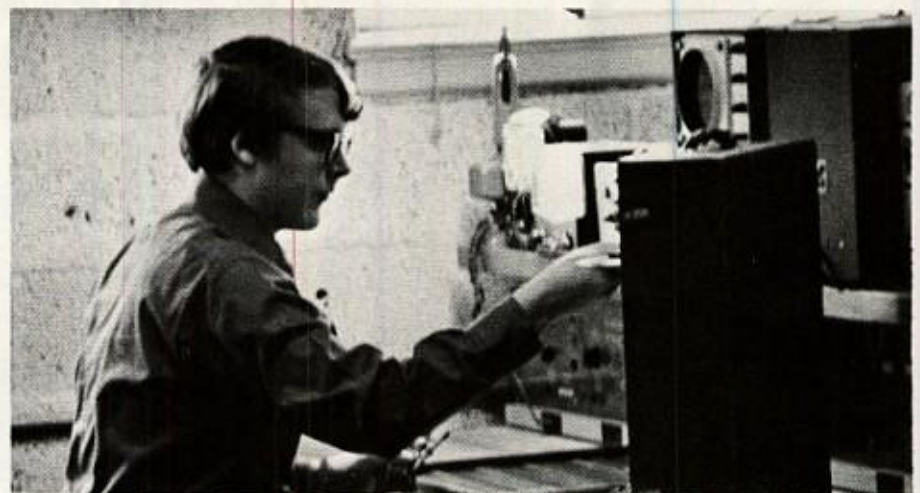

Occupational shops expose boys to the mechanics of creativity

Grimsley's occupational shops; machine shop, electronics, and wood shop; all offer opportunities for a student to train for a job in a related field. Theories and principles are learned and applied in the construction of various models made by the students. In addition to training, seemingly tedious to some, a student can enjoy himself and find an outlet for his creativity.

Whether it's building a stereo amplifier in electronics or perfecting a grandfather clock in wood shop, occupational shops mean the creative use and proper maintenance of tools as well as the satisfaction of creating with one's hands.

*With tools, imagination, and skill, young artists
find expression*

Paper, a triangle, a T-square and a sharpened pencil — with these tools, imagination and skill, the typical drafting student can create the form of anything from a filing cabinet to a space capsule. The dexterity in technical drawing learned in this class can be utilized as a basis for further education in structural, mechanical, electronical or architectural drawing.

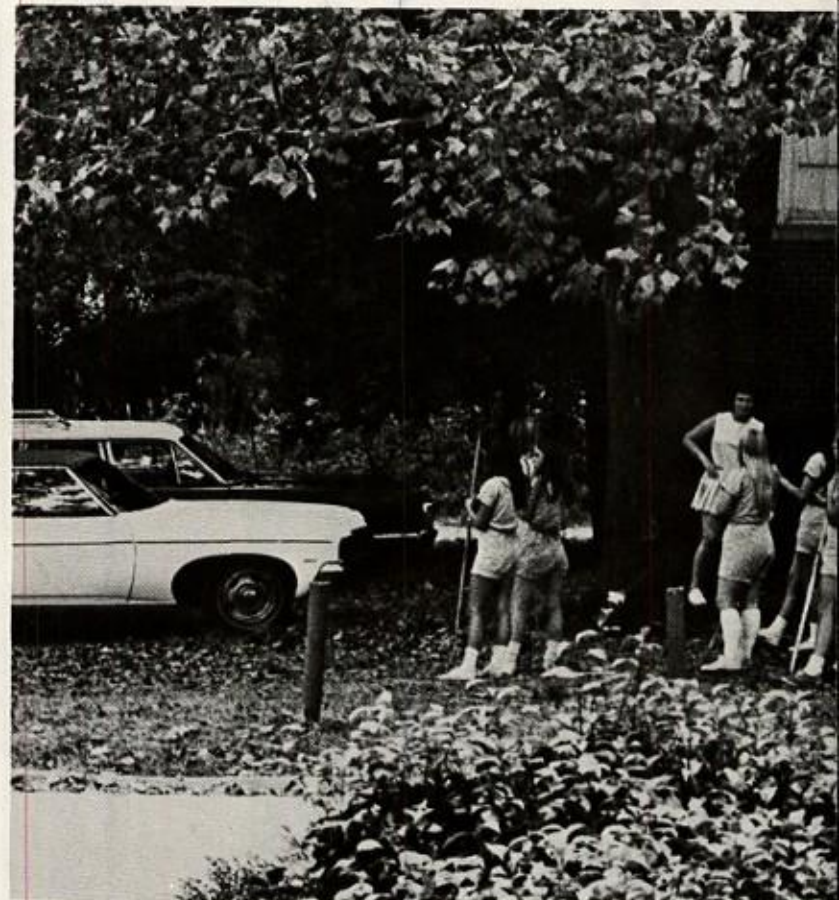

At the opposite end of campus is the art room. Young artists, original and inventive, spend many class hours in this room working on projects. Expressing individual ideas is a part of life. Students taking art have found an excellent way of expressing themselves.

"Sometimes I just sit and think, and sometimes I just sit"

Anticipation . . .

The avocation of young people:

Looking to colleges, travels, futures, and families,
Hoping for answers to over-population, outer space,
and inner peace,

Creating new ideas and future good times,
and knowing the fleeting fears of unknown dangers.
High school, in an attempt to "prepare us for life," sometimes forgets that the best lesson in living is on-the-job training.

Anticipation:

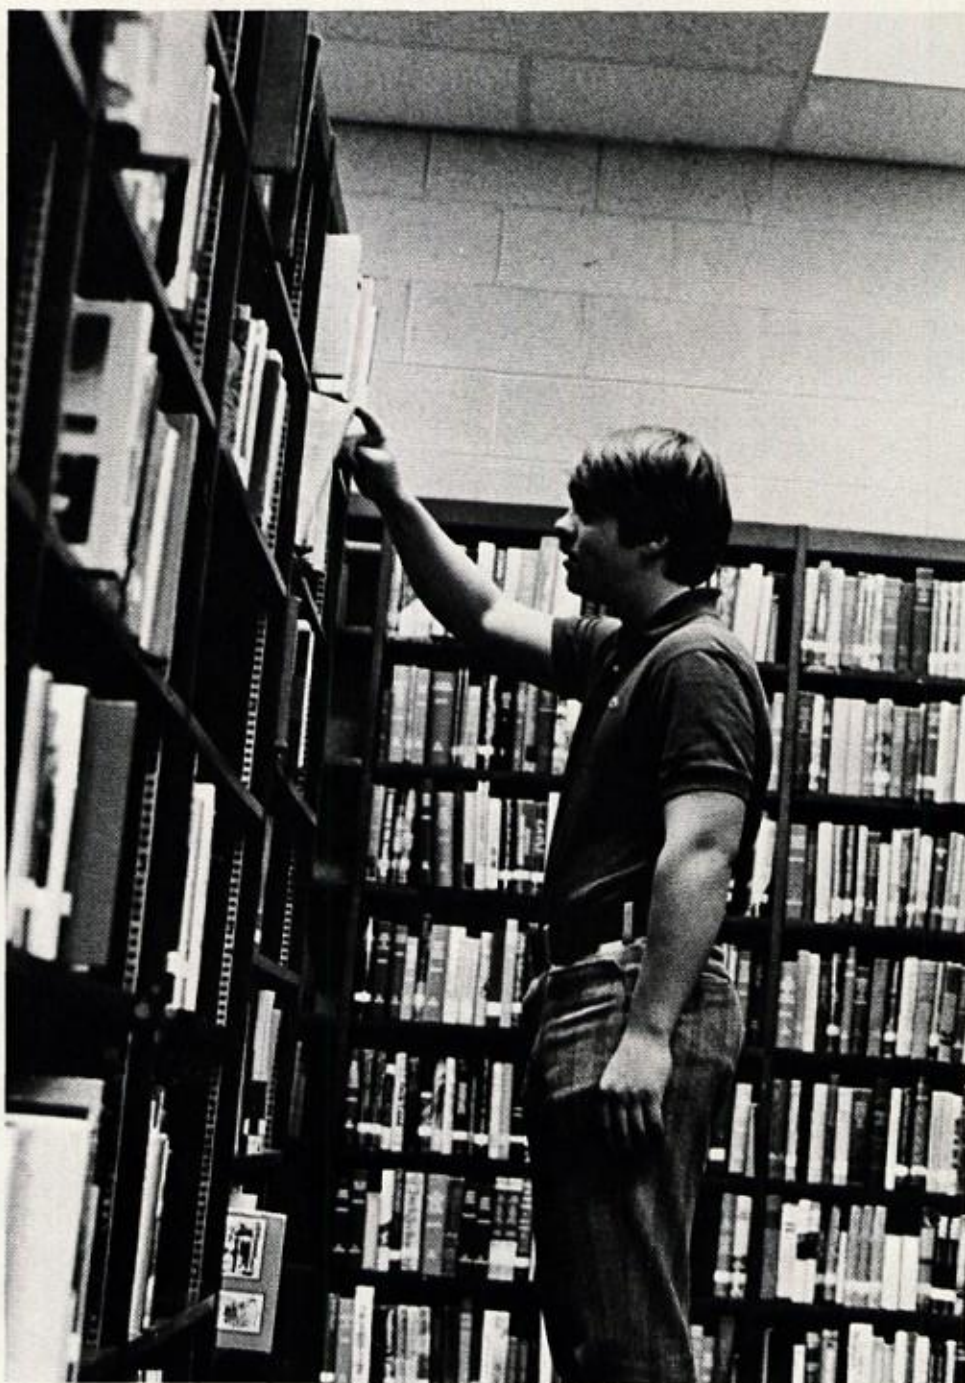

One part foresight,
One part initiative,
and three parts training.

Phys. Ed. plays "active" part in lives of GHS'ers

Although, in classroom situations, there are several distinct castes, everyone is equal in physical education. All are required to take at least one year to graduate, during which time they quickly become used to the schedule of dressing out, showers, and deodorant. Football, archery, baseball, and tennis are offered out-of-doors, while gymnastics, wrestling, baseball, and volleyball are offered inside. Gym is a congenial, relaxing break in a daily schedule.

Business Education prepares students with the skills to build a successful career

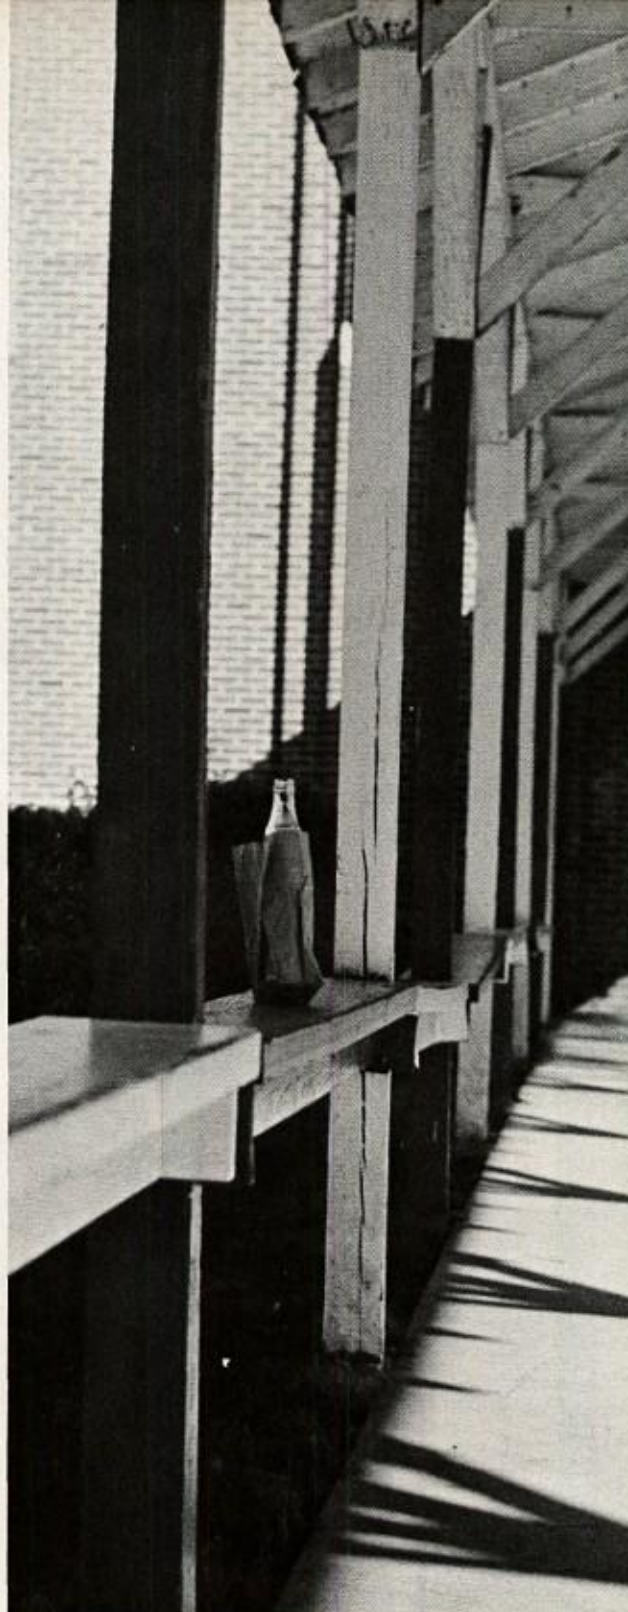

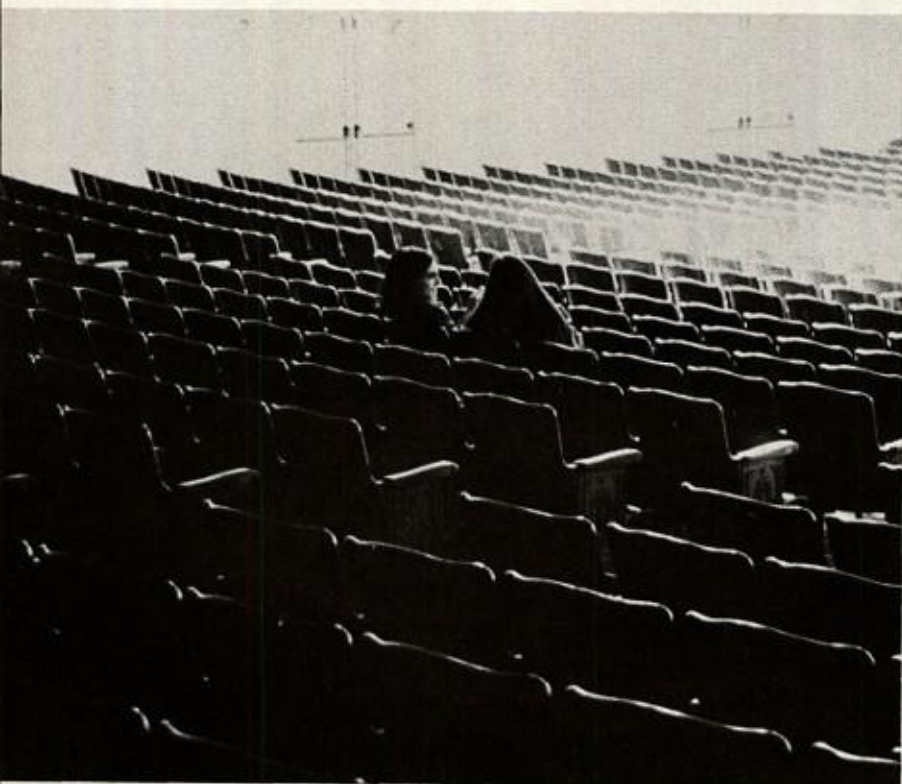

Business Education prepares students who plan to enter college, business school, or who plan to enter the business world upon graduation with valuable skills.

The Business Education Department offers two programs. The Stenographic Program is designed for students who plan to become employed as stenographers upon graduation or who intend to go to college and remain in the business field. The General Office Program is streamlined to the needs of the student who intends to perform general clerical work or who wish to be qualified for jobs which do not require shorthand training.

Among the courses offered by the Business Department are Basic Business, Economics, Business Communications, Typing, and Shorthand.

Beguiling Cinderella triumphs once again over mean stepsisters

May Day from behind the scenes: A bustle of activity within the main building . . . "Flowers," "Rats," "Brooms," and "Peasants," all madly scurrying to pin costumes and apply make-up . . . a fifteen-minute panic when the fairy godmother had not returned from her hair appointment. When she was located at last, dance groups and actors tramped to their places on the lawn, and the show was on.

An "Ah-h" arose from the audience. No one saw long practices every other afternoon for weeks, then the tedious fittings, and now the churning stomachs. The radiant court was presented, the gorgeous queen crowned. After the graceful, sophisticated minuet, the prince, charmed by Cinderella's loveliness, danced jubilantly. "Cinderella" came to its usual end with a minimum of mistakes, and the audience saw only the beauty and perfection in the May Day performance.

"For the family of Individuals, it was a good year"

This was the year of the Individual.
Young People voted for their leaders, some for the first time,
Factories slowly began stopping their contamination of the air,
And a fourth period biology students learned what RNA was.
Americans blew their horns and rang their bells that Saturday in January when the war ended.
An American POW saw his only son for the first time, and the Dolphins won the Super Bowl.
Inflation rose, legal ages fell, laws were liberalized,
And a warm-hearted lady in room 861 saw her 22nd yearbook go to press.
For the family of Individuals, it was a good year.

Faculty honors Seniors at traditional end-of-year tea

"Here I am again. The Senior Tea. My twelfth consecutive year. These kids—styles change, even ways of thinking change. But since the reason we give this tea does not change, then neither do the thoughts that run through my head, and the heads of these seniors. They all look so nice—not many hats, but I suppose asking them to wear something besides blue jeans was asking enough. The atmosphere is wonderful, as always. I can see here that students do not really see us as enemies, nor as superior beings. We're friends—friends that have helped them on the road to higher learning—trite, perhaps, but true. It certainly makes me happy. I suppose I'd better start collecting empty plates. Oh well, it's my pleasure."

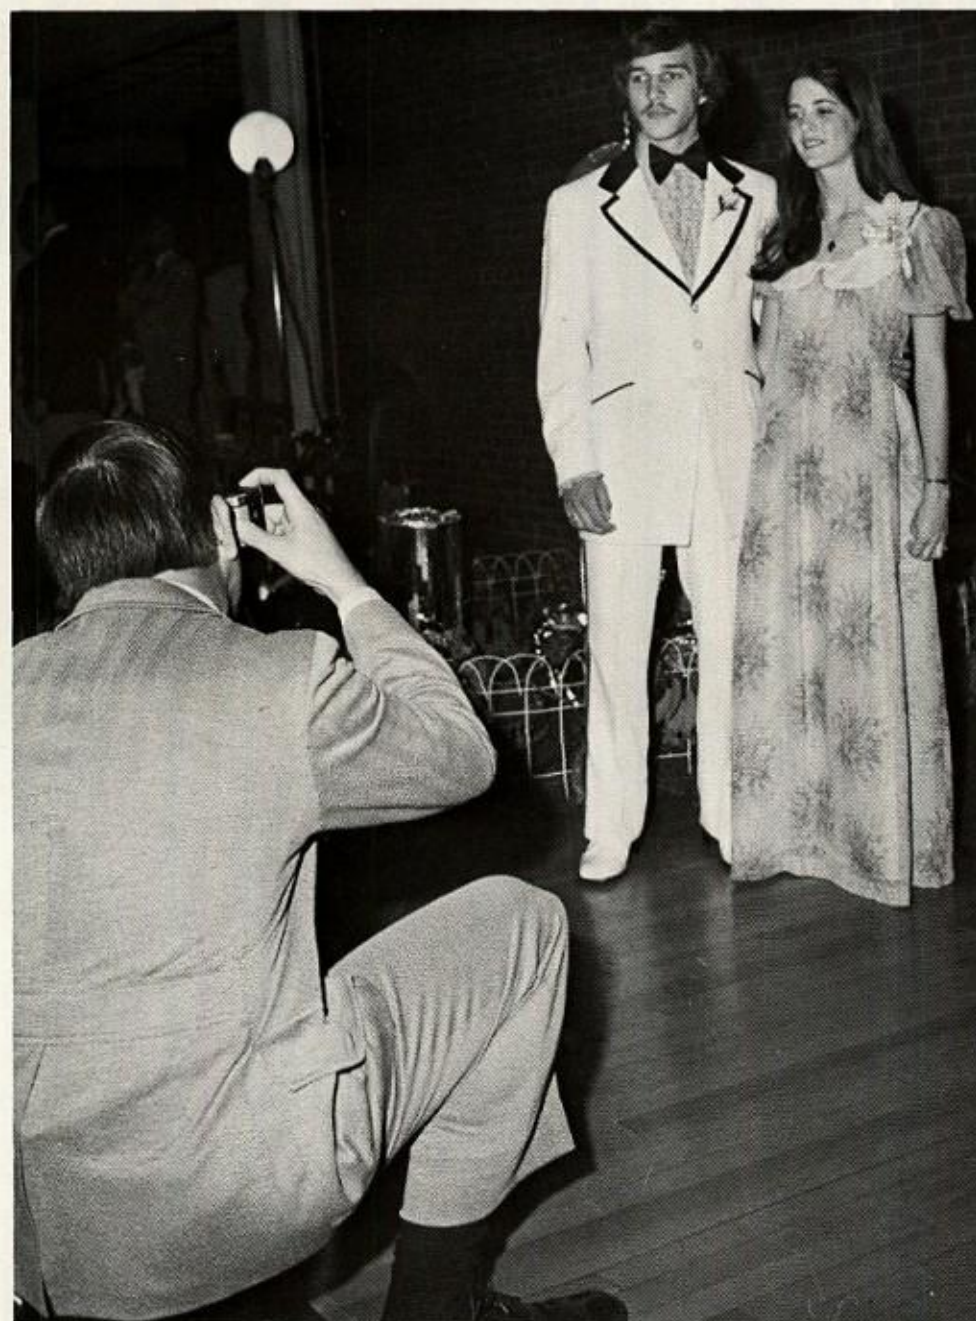

In May, 1972, junior homeroom teachers planned and prepared a tea which seniors could enjoy. The "almost-graduates" had the pleasure of letting the teachers wait on them, a rather comical sight to some. The soft music provided by members of the GHS orchestra, along with the luxurious setting in the UNC-G Alumnae House, lent the occasion an air of elegance. Smiling faces and friendly conversation did not let the elegance overcome the relaxing atmosphere, however, and all had a pleasant time.

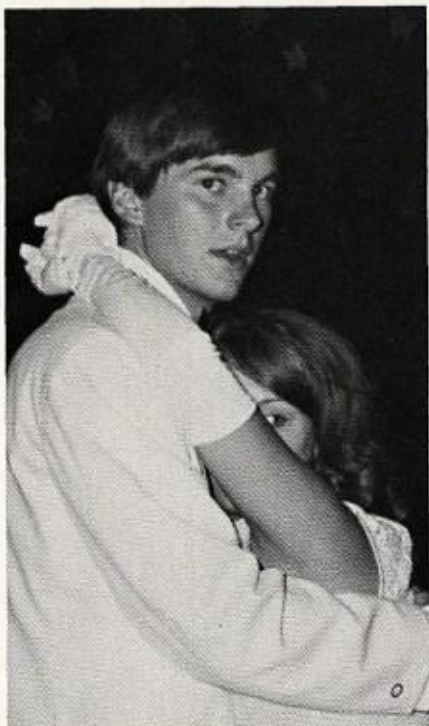

Starlit Senior Prom creates cherished memories for many Lovely, lovely night . . .

Full of glitter and gold and magic.
Can these be the same people I see every day,
All grown up now and beautiful?
Tonight, everybody is a star . . .
Twinkling memories carved before a sparkling fountain
Beneath a starry canopy sky.
Tonight is a never-forgotten Prom: intense, young, and special.

GHS Seniors are state's largest '72 graduating class

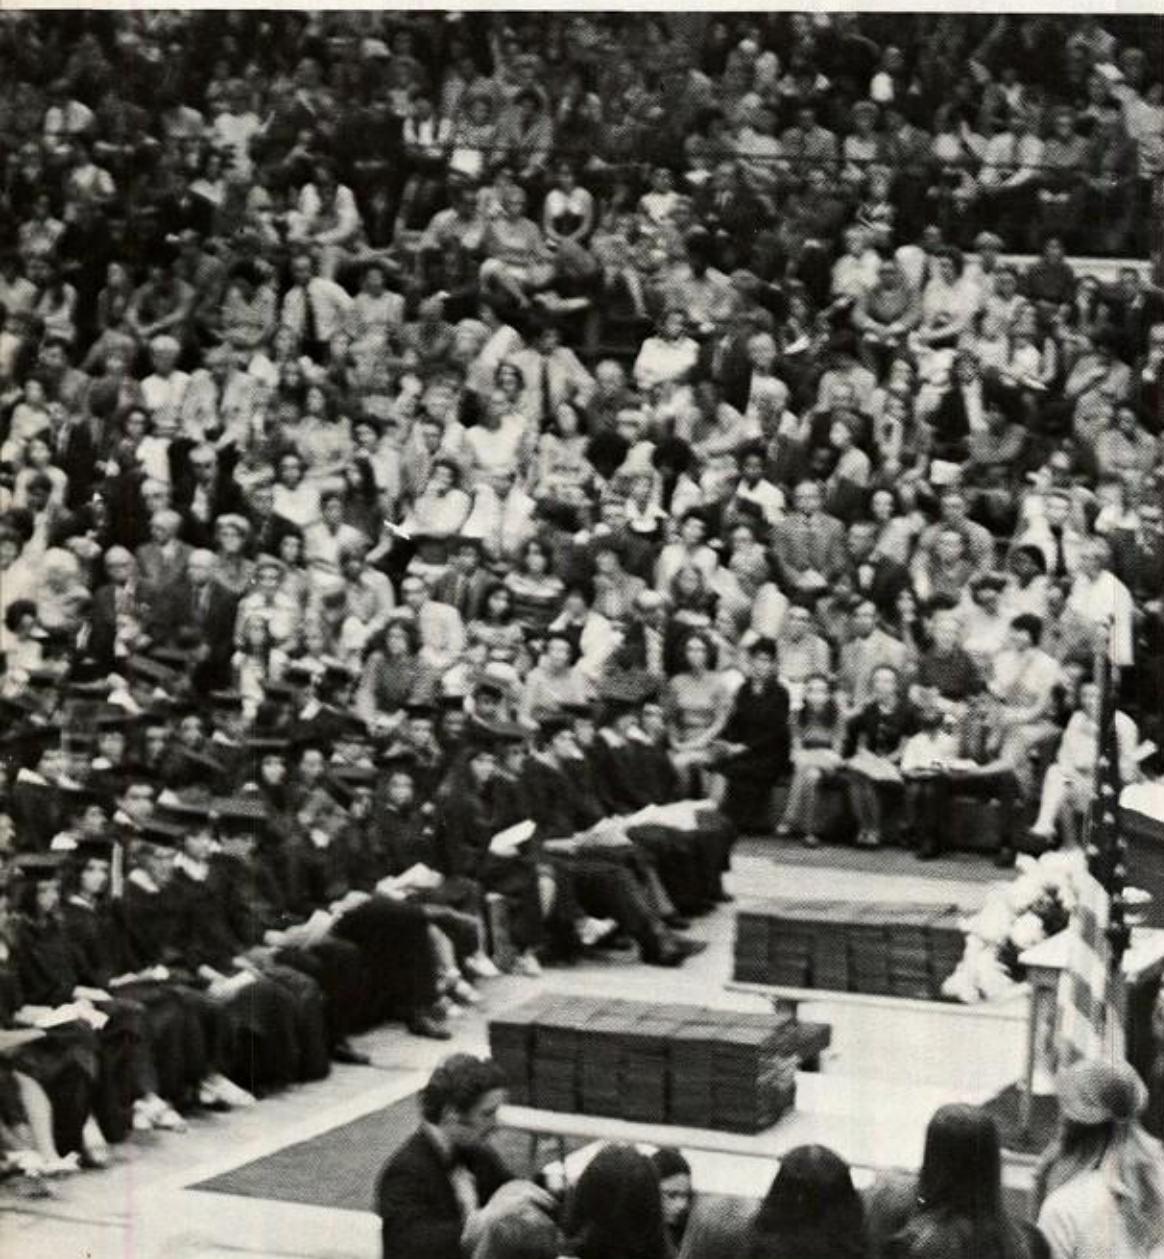

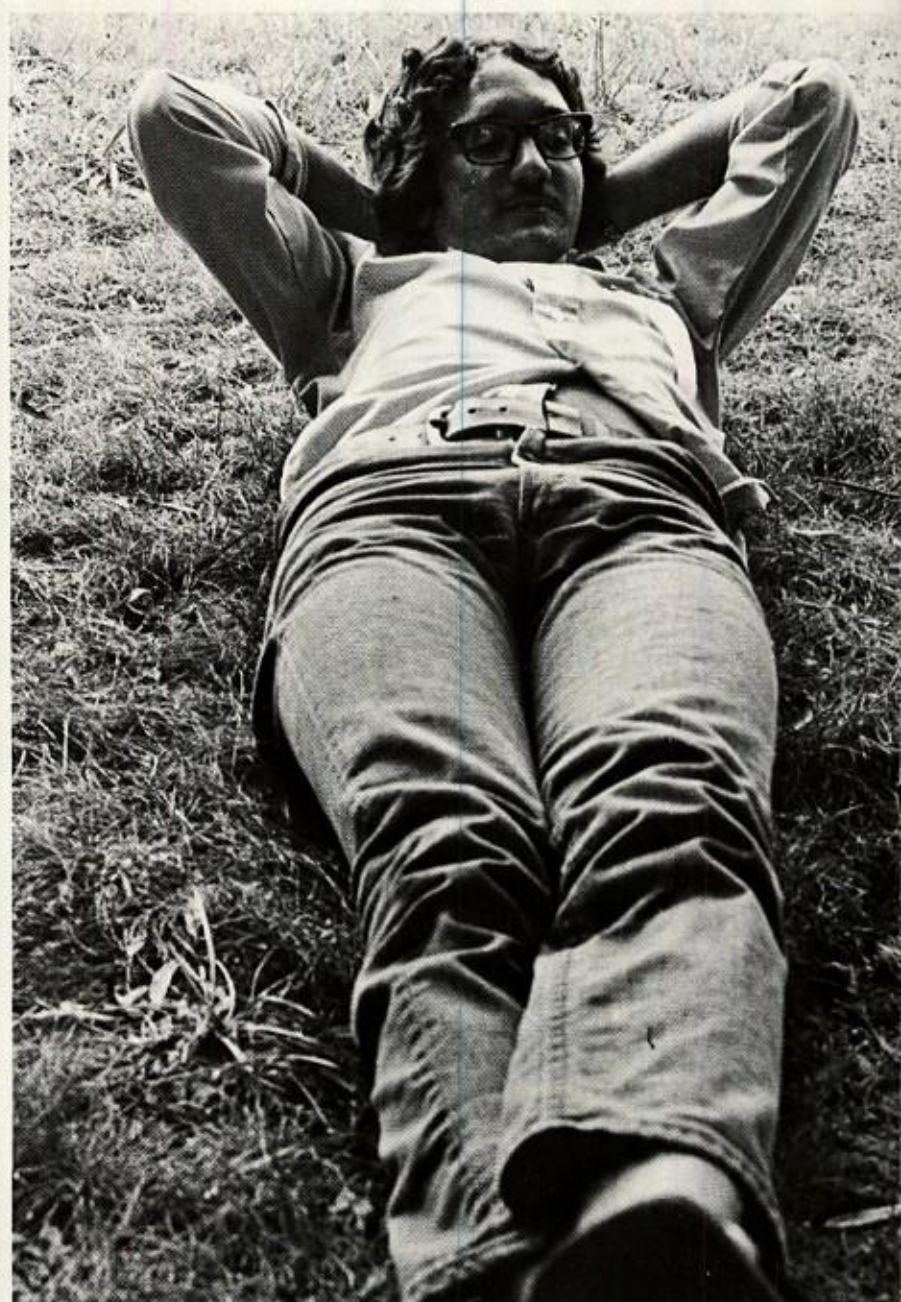

A solemn celebration, Graduation '72 proceeded with all the ceremony of earlier years. Tradition spoke with every movement, every sound. The reason for the gathering: the reception from the hands of assistant superintendent Thorpe Jones of a piece of paper symbolic of themes, reports, algebra problems, and other practices oriented for learning. Upon receiving this paper, the 727 individuals stepped away from GHS assemblies, slamming lockers, lunches on the front lawn. Rain poured outside; inside the temperature rose. Seniors in traditional caps and gowns listened rather impatiently to Mr. Jay Cornet. Perhaps the young adults were thinking about what was in store for them. Whether college or job lay ahead, for each the challenge of new experiences awaited.

Both interest and apathy can be found at the final Senior assembly (above). The solemnity of graduation (below) is well reflected in Mr. Glenn's face as he addresses the seniors.

"Life will never be the same for me now."

Life will never be the same.
While I've been here these past few years,
I've been given new responsibilities, learned new concepts,
And faced tests of endurance, honesty, intelligence, sincerity,
And sometimes tests of raw courage.
I've been overworked and underpaid, overrun and underfed,
Exhausted, ecstatic, anxious, furious, apathetic, blah, and beautiful.
I know that I shall miss these days, and as I leave,
I'll not forget the lessons of people, peace, and pain.

Torchlight's Talent Show entertains large audience and pays for scholarships

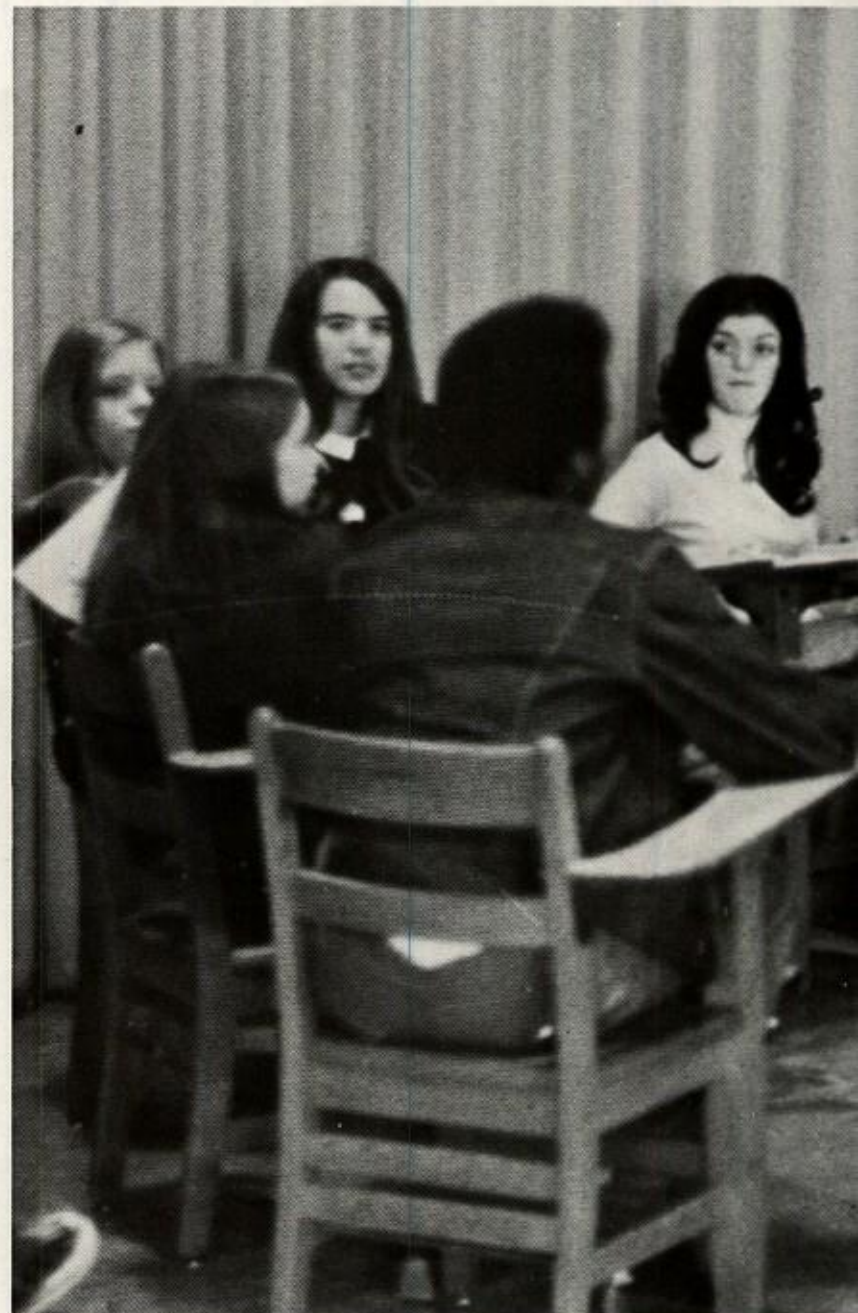

The Girls' Madrigals sing softly, while future Torchlight members, their parents, and faculty sit in the library. They have heard brief speeches by members of the GHS National Honor Society and have seen candles lighted to scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Solemnly, then, inductees are led up the aisles by Torchlight members, to receive a flower, a membership card, and a congratulatory handshake. Thus members, voted on by faculty, are inducted into Torchlight. These ceremonies are held in the fall for seniors only, and in the spring for juniors and seniors.

Torchlight's traditional Talent Show was held in March. This year ten acts were chosen from twice as many applicants. Results were a highly entertaining program, with proceeds from tickets going to furnish scholarships to two deserving seniors.

Student Council spearheads carnival and successful fund-raising project

Student Council, the traditional arm of student government, again succeeded in keeping order in the sometimes chaotic patterns of school life. There were, however, some structural changes. The formation of such new committees as the Finance Committee and Condolence Committee was one such change.

The conventional projects of the GHS student government were executed with the usual hard work and dedication. Assemblies, Thanksgiving projects, Homecoming, and the Football Banquet were carried off as usual. With the changing format new activities were investigated such as a carnival in the boys' gym, a record hop after a basketball game, a Page-Grimsley faculty game, and a dance at which the stage band would perform and Grimsley students, their dates and parents could attend.

Student Council put in an active year, meeting Wednesdays first period with their advisor Mrs. Lackey. In the words of student body president Kathy Whitcomb, "This year there is interest!"

Student Affairs Committee plans exchange program and student leadership day

The Student Affairs Committee entered its second year with the theme of developing improved student relations. Part of the members for this year's committee were elected, but several others were added from among many volunteers.

Two important activities planned by the committee this year turned out well. In February an exchange program between the four city high schools enabled interested students, chosen from volunteers, to visit another high school. The four schools then received valuable criticism and suggestions as a result of this project. A second project was a student leadership day. Each class elected a student to serve as "teacher" for a day. In many classes students were thus able to better appreciate the job of our Grimsley faculty members.

YRC Sweethearts brighten up Grimsley on Valentine's Day

Under the leadership of co-chairmen Angie Dixon and Anne McDaniel, the Youth Recreation Council planned several dances for the social calendars of Grimsley students. "Early Morning Fog" played at the successful Homecoming dance. Along with Student Council, YRC planned a Parent's dance, featuring the Grimsley stage band.

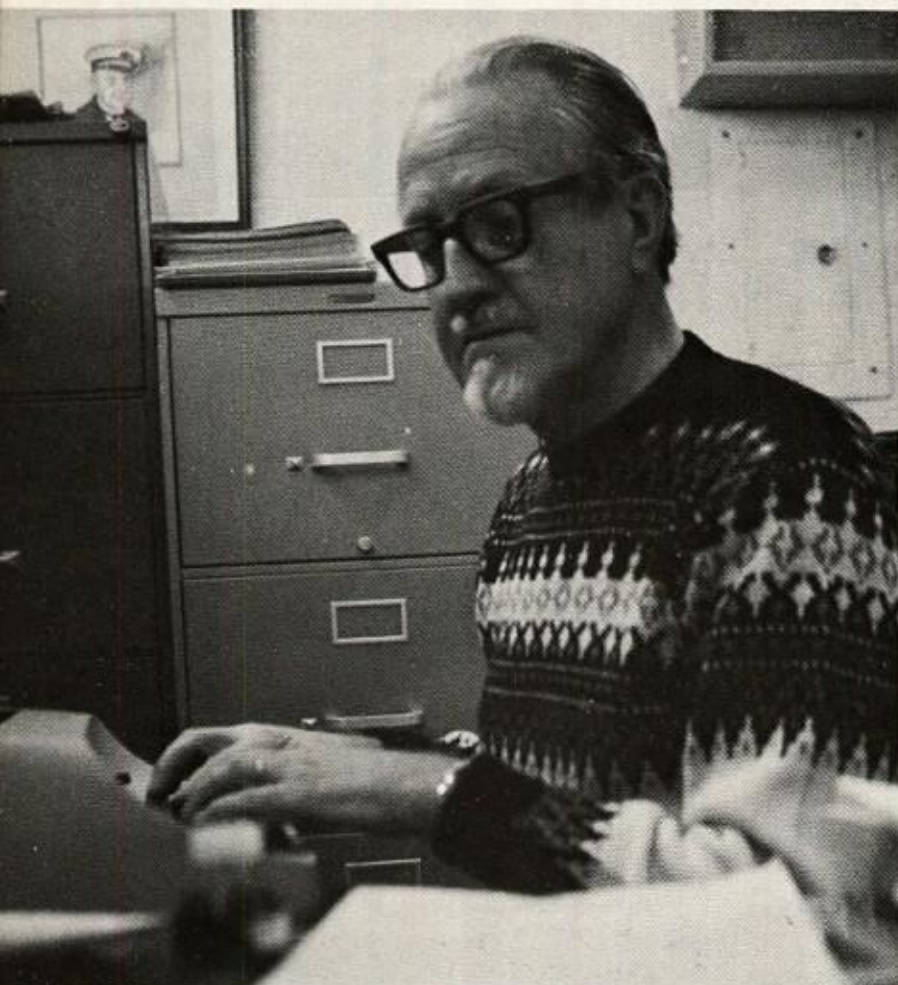

YRC is responsible for decorating the girl's gym for dances, in addition to publicity. A theme must be decided on, and decorations must be made and put up before the social events.

Grimsley's Symphony Band pleases both President Nixon and the All-State judges

The Grimsley Symphony Band continued to thrill audiences with five outstanding concerts this year. At the final program, given in May, the band honored John Barnes Chance, composer-in-residence at GHS in 1961-62, who died recently. When All-State Band try-outs were held at High Point Central, forty-seven performers from Grimsley were chosen by sightreading, scales, and a planned solo. Of these, six won first chairs in the Central District All-State Band, and eight won first chairs in the Workshop Band. Also the Grimsley band was host to the New Music Clinic in January. A high spot for these musicians came last fall when the band played for President Nixon on his visit to Greensboro. For this the band received a certificate of appreciation from the President.

Concert Band, Stage Band, and other groups enrich GHS music program

Mr. Edgar Rooker's Concert Band was able to demonstrate in four public concerts this year that they were thoroughly trained and determined to make Grimsley proud. Proof of their reputation was their invitation to play for the North Carolina Bandmasters Association when it met in Greensboro for a clinic to preview new music publications.

From the Symphony Band, skilled musicians from each brass section were chosen to perform in the Stage Band. This group pleased the student body with two assembly concerts. They took part in public concerts with the Symphony and Concert Bands. Again this year, they were invited to play for the celebrities at the GGO banquet. When the Student Council gave a dance for parents, it was this band that was asked to furnish the dance music.

Two other very popular and colorful band groups are the Marching Band and the Pep Band. These volunteers added excitement to sports events, the former with half-time shows to enrich football games and the latter to bring an extra measure of color and enjoyment to basketball fans.

Orchestra performs for the choral symphony on American Poems

Among the outstanding musical groups of Grimsley is the Orchestra. Under the direction of Mr. Jones and Mrs. McKinney, these students have participated in several concerts and other events in which they displayed the talent and skill they possess. A Christmas concert was given in addition to the fall, winter, and spring concerts.

The winter concert was performed with accompanying orchestras of Kiser and Lindley Junior Highs. In November the orchestra played a special concert during which the combined choirs of Grimsley, Smith, Dudley and Page were featured. At this concert Dr. Jack M. Jarrett, head of the Music Theory Department and composer-in-residence at UNC-G, conducted the Choral Symphony on American Poems.

Choir receives superior rating at Spring Contest

With concerts all during the year, the fifty well-blended voices of the GHS choir were kept busy rehearsing. On November 5 the Choir performed in a city-wide concert with other high schools. They also succeeded in attaining a superior rating at the Spring contest. Not only has the choir put in a lot of work to improve the quality of their sound, but they've had a good time doing it (with or without conduct cuts). The Choir, along with the Madrigals, are the most experienced group, and their concerts proclaim the quality of their singers.

The Madrigals rose to stardom this year by cutting a record for the "Thank-You Bank" in the fall. During the Christmas season, the singers entertained at various office Christmas parties. As a fall project, each student was required to compose a term paper on the development of the Madrigals.

Well blended voices delight audience at Christmas Concert

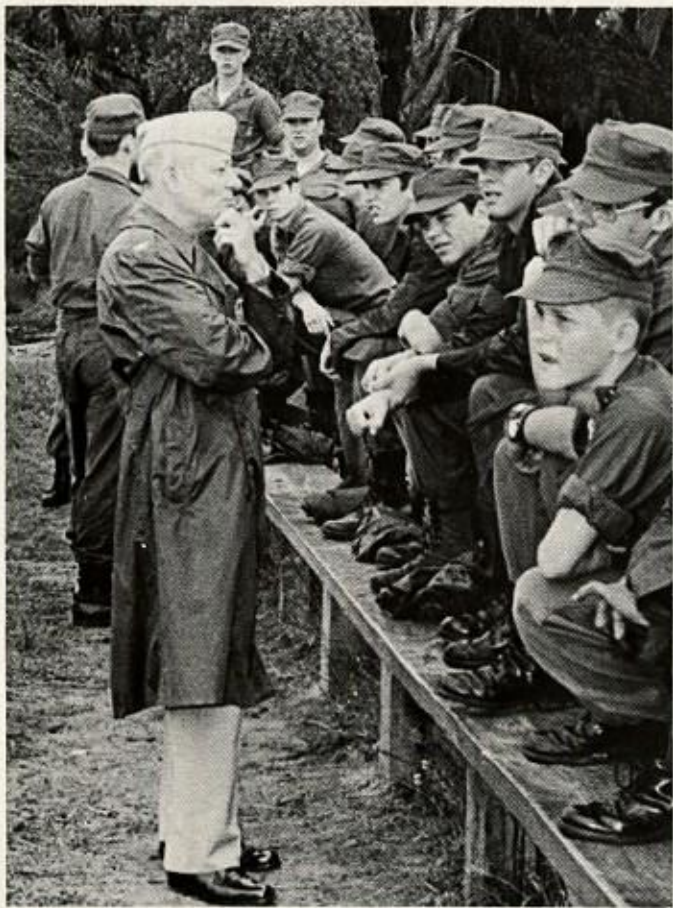

Beginning Chorus, made up of seventy-seven students, is the largest group in the choral department. In this class, theory and the basic principles of singing are studied. Concentration on tone quality is emphasized in Advanced Girls Chorus, which is made up of mostly juniors. Under the direction of Mrs. Mooring these girls enjoyed singing in various concerts and programs. More experienced girls participate in Girls Madrigals, where they are able to work on perfecting their musical ability. Taught by Mr. Hill, members of Girls Madrigals performed at concert and such special events as Torchlight induction.

Grimsley's MJROTC lays foundation for marine leadership

Under the diligent command of Col. Booker and his assistant, M/Sgt. Zales, this year's ROTC stressed leadership training. In the spring the high precision drill team competed against forty-eight other teams from North Carolina in Raleigh. Inspection came in late spring with ninety boys under the discerning eyes of four officials from the Inspector General's office. Cadets had their first taste of Marine life when they spent three days in Quantico, Virginia.

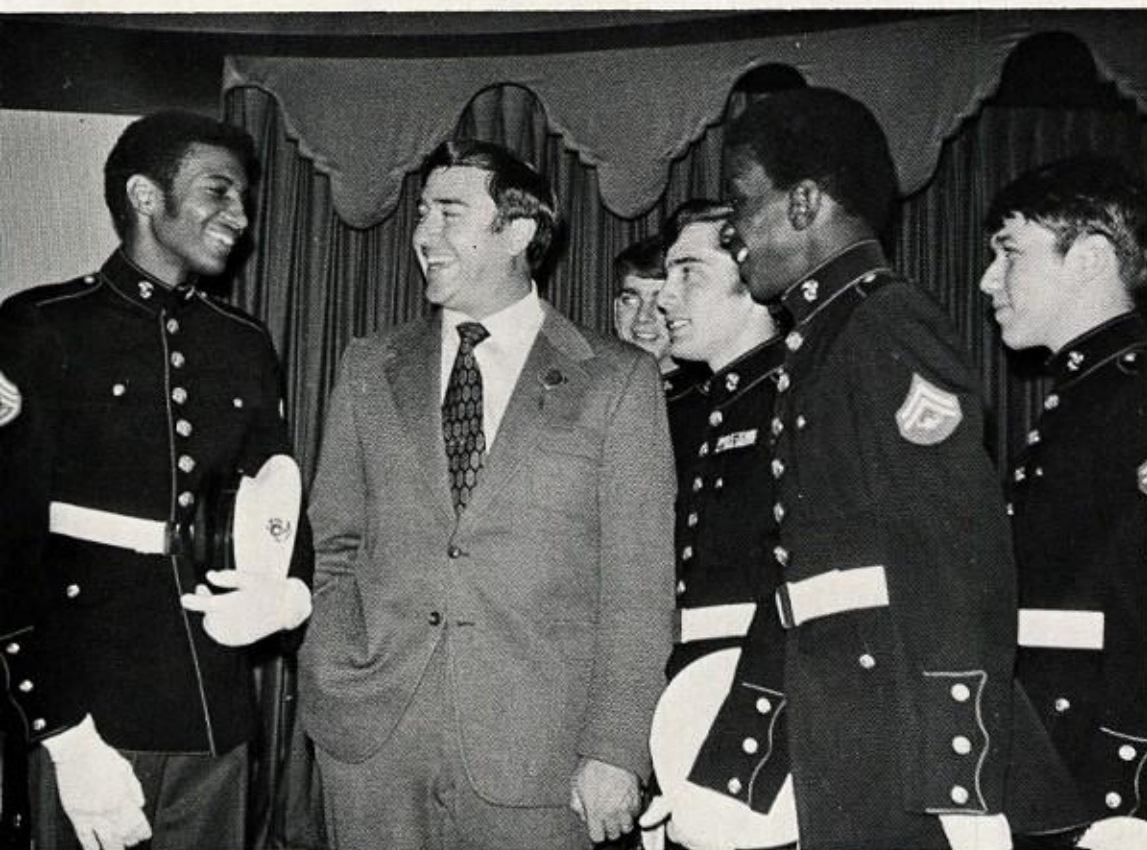

The Marine Corps Birthday Ball was the high point of the social season for ROTC. During the Reserve Officer's Banquet, Governor Scott and other high officials watched the drill team and color guard perform. The drill team and color guard also led the Christmas Parade in Raleigh.

Education Week luncheon by Grimsley FTA club honors community leaders

A group of prospective faculty members met last fall to join Grimsley's Future Teachers of America club. All year programs were planned to interest members more in the teaching profession and to cultivate leadership, character, and scholarship among the members. The club was especially active during American Education Week, when they planned and served a luncheon for representatives of the Grimsley faculty and community leaders. Last October they attended a district meeting of FTA at Greensboro College and in March the club was well represented at the state FTA convention at Wake Forest University. At their banquet in May they installed their new officers.

*FHA gives experience, parties, trip, and boost
toward future careers*

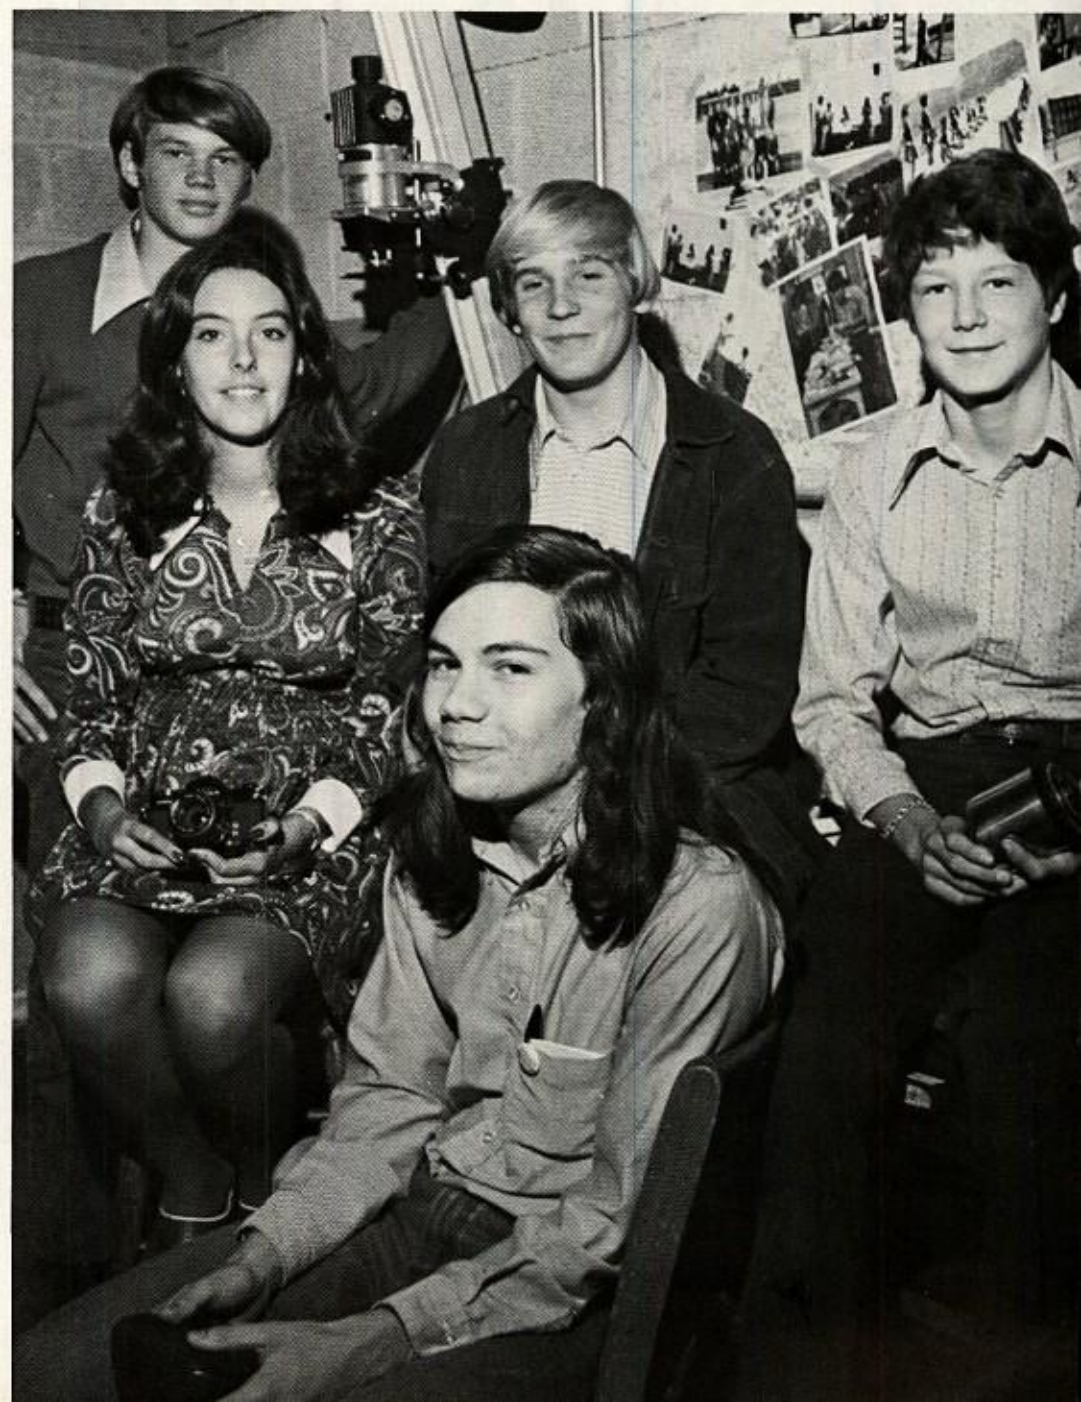

All year, FHA members looked forward eagerly to their April trip to attend their state convention at N.C. State University. This was a happy climax to many practical experiences. Their Mother-Daughter banquet, all those covered dish dinners — one each month — and the cakes, pies, and cookies they made for two bake sales proved they could cook. Their business meetings, speakers, and community projects developed their leadership. So the year ended with positive results — their gift to the home economics department, and, in a more far-reaching way, the boost they had received toward a possible career in home economics.

WHIRLIGIG Staff aim: an accurate record of today for tomorrow

What can one say about the twenty-two-year effort of a beloved yearbook advisor? That she was more than dedicated, that she just about broke her back every year around February (press-time), and that we shall miss her. Undoubtedly, without the constant aid and moral support of Miss Virginia Powell, the WHIRLIGIG staff would easily have fallen apart. Miss Powell has always stressed that a yearbook should be an accurate record of the school year, able to evoke memories of past days at a time when thoughts no longer center around GHS activities.

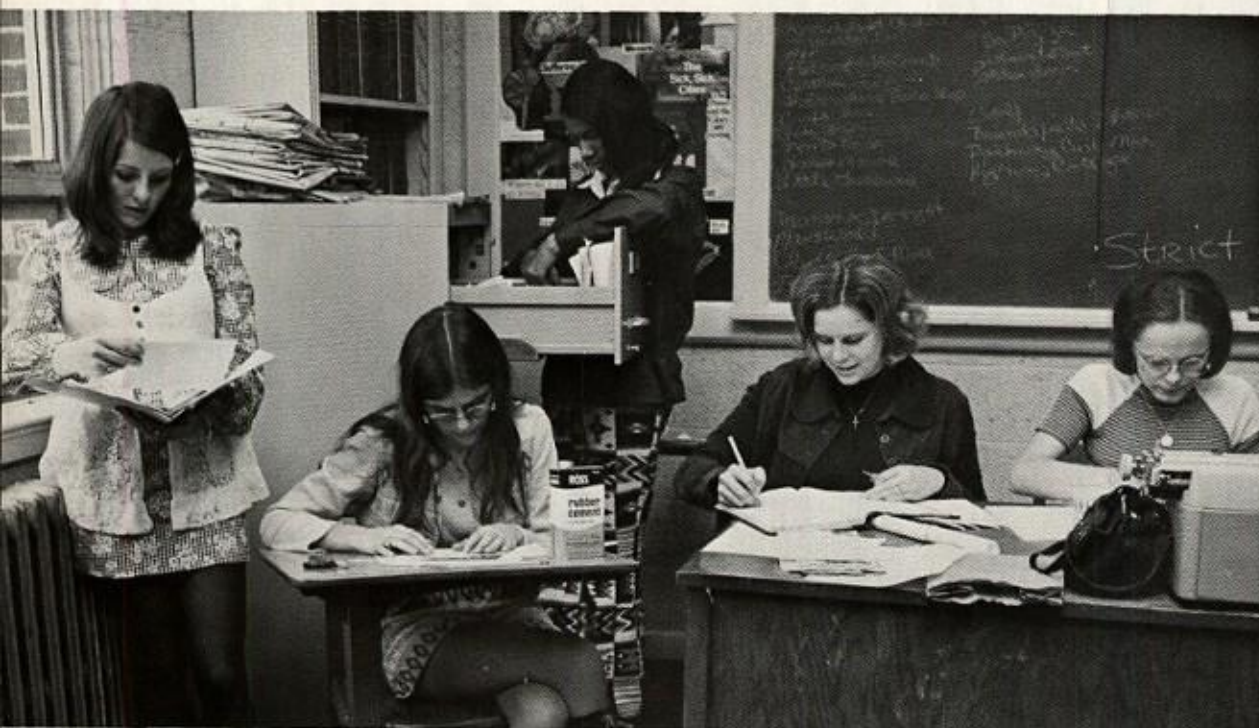

This year's staff worked relatively smoothly together, due in large part to the level-headedness of cool, calm, collected Co-Editors Beverly Leonard and Debbie Dawson. (Ha!) A typical afternoon with the annual staff was a lesson in organized chaos: Managing Editor Lisa Hutchinson somehow coaxed the sports editors into finishing their pages; temperamental writers Pat and Libba alternately scribbled and stared off into space; section editors Smith, Winfree, and the class editors beat a path to the darkroom door; photographers Hubbard, Smith, and Deaton scurried to and fro (avoiding the section editors if possible); and Photography Editor Debbie Gutterman also scurried to and fro (in search of photographers).

After all the trials and tribulations, though, it is still a beautiful feeling when the WHIRLIGIG materializes. This year, that moment belongs especially to Miss Powell, to whom we and all past yearbook staffs say, "Thank you."

Lisa Hutchinson (top), winner of the 1973 WHIRLIGIG Award, ingeniously solves the problem of having only two hands. Pat Mahaffee (middle), Literary Editor, spent hours at the desk and typewriter. '73 HIGH LIFE staff carries out impossible mission

To: Miss Donna Summers:
Good Afternoon, Miss Summers

You are looking at reporters, ad managers, and page editors. These people are in part responsible for the Grimsley newspaper known as HIGH LIFE. Your mission, should you decide to accept it, is to coordinate the activities of these students. You will serve as editor of HIGH LIFE. Do not distress when the editorial page has yet to be laid out and the paper must go to press the next day. Rather, calmly and carefully write editorials posing such questions as "Must apathy run rampant?", and "Are we afraid to be different?" Along with Mrs. Rachel Morton, able advisor, you and the other potential journalism majors will provide the students of Grimsley High School with some interesting, entertaining, and informative material to read during the homeroom period. This job will take up your seventh period, though some colleagues will work sixth period also. In addition, be prepared to work at home on off-hours.

As is our custom, should you become permanently impaired or perish under the strain of such responsibility, the secretary will disavow any knowledge of your endeavor. Good-bye and good luck.

Grimsley's 34 ICT-VICA super salesmen entertain their employers in February Grimsley's ICT members belong to a VICA group that tried to serve others while living up to their motto of "Preparing for leadership in the world of work." At Christmas, for example, they collected canned foods for needy families. To prove their business ability, the club made $600 selling candles. At the district level, Laura Fry was elected secretary and Jim Brinsfield, editor, in charge of publicity. This spring, contests in public speaking, safety, display, etc., were held to prepare for competition with other groups. In April Mr. Hill and two delegates attended the state convention in Wilmington. An enjoyable highlight of the year was the Grimsley ICT-VICA's informal dinner at the Ramada Inn on February 15 for their employers.

Machine shop VICA members design and build valuable parts for local sports car club

Boys in Machine shop VICA became expert machinist, designing and building suspensions systems for local sports car club members. This development work kept the boys busy, each unit requiring twenty or more hours of work to complete. Two other projects were the building of a utility trailer and a camping trailer — each of which occupied many boys for four months. Looking back at their opportunities to learn and to construct valuable and useful products gave the boys a real sense of accomplishment.

Grimsley's DECA member's work, play, compete — and succeed in all DECA may seem to be just another set of initials among the organizations of Grimsley. It is, however an important part of the lives of many juniors and seniors. The Distributive Education Clubs of America has as its motto "Building leaders through marketing and distribution." The students who participate in this program attend classes in the morning and work in the afternoon. In addition to developing social intelligence, civic consciousness, leadership abilities and vocational understanding, DECA has fun activities, as do other clubs. A District Leadership Conference was held on February 11, where participants listened to speeches and entered various contests. The winners at the district level advanced to state competition, and then to national competition. Scholarships were awarded to winning DECA members.

COO program trains girls in skills that really pay off

Cooperative Office Occupations — better known as COO — had much to offer the select group of girls who worked with their coordinator, Mrs. Hornaday, two hours each morning and completed other courses, then left school to work at Blue Bell, Duke Power, Sears, etc. On their jobs they put their office skills to use while they were learning first hand about the business world. Many will be asked to continue in their positions after graduation.

As a club they met every other month for dinner and to plan various service projects. Especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas they showed their generosity to needy families. This spring they honored their employers at a Saturday luncheon.

Grimsley Library changes to Media Center as materials grow in diversity

The term Library Assistants may have the connotation of skinny mousiness behind thick glasses, but this image is not true with assistants at GHS. Most other students cannot appreciate the work these people put into orderly bookshelves and perfecting their magazine-hunting skill. With their covered-dish suppers and their occasional meetings during a homeroom period, this Media Center group functions much like other Grimsley clubs.

Rewards for Bus Drivers are longer routes, more riders — and a bigger paycheck

Among the dreary everyday necessities called homeroom, one particularly stands out: Bus Driver's homeroom. Located in the Industrial Arts Building, Bus Driver's homeroom serves as a focal point which sends out its tentacles twice a day to move hordes of screaming and cavorting elementary, junior, and senior high passengers. Along with getting up before dawn, also expected of bus drivers are the tasks of keeping discipline, filling out oceans of papers, and not smoking on the bus.

Dedicated advisors are here early, worrying about breakdowns and firings, and entertaining students with wild arm gestures. For drivers "lucky" enough to have a Kiser load, there is total chaos twice a day to anticipate, plus the almost impossible aspect of keeping a sixteen-year-old bus motor running. Encouragement comes once a month, however, when paychecks appear — with this year's $1.97 per hour (over last year's $1.88). The new elementary school day, ending at 2:00, gives more hours of driving, while the five new yellow buses enhance the beautiful decor of the GHS parking lot.

Interested Spanish students organize La Alianza Española

At the first of 1972 a group of students, interested in anything Spanish banded together to form the first Spanish Club at Grimsley. Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Whitaker two main committees were formed for La Alianza Espanol. The Constitution committee was faced with the problem of writing the first constitution and leaving room for amendments. Money raising projects and self-service projects were planned by the Program Committee. The new Spanish Club wasn't all work and no play. Sandwiched between business meetings were a pinata-breaking party, a dinner of Spanish cuisine, native speakers, and singing.

Playmasters cultivate interest in the theatre

At the beginning of the school year, a group of students with dramatic talent and interest formed this year's Playmasters group. With meetings twice a month, members enjoyed doing improvisations and learning the ins and outs of the theatre. With money from candy sales and dues the Playmasters paid the royalties for the play, "The Night of January Sixteenth." The Playmasters performed at the State Contest for one-act plays at Catawba College. During an informal moment at a regular meeting one might hear conversations concerning readings for Governor's School, new plays, or criticisms of a peer's voice inflection. Much talent has been found and cultivated through Grimsley's Playmasters.

Sixteen Service Clubs use Interclub Council to clear and coordinate efforts Interclub Council is composed of the president of each of the service clubs here at Grimsley. All sixteen clubs have had projects ranging from School Beautiful workdays to charity drives and Homecoming displays.

The council serves as a meeting place where mutual problems, projects, and creative ideas converge for the good of all clubs. Bimonthly meetings, held in room 100, are supervised by Mr. Gwynn and the president of Interclub Council, Jimmy Matthews. The council is dedicated to the purpose of serving the community as well as the school.

Jaycees help at GGO, give a scholarship, share other projects with Jaycettes

Both the Jr. Jaycees and their sister club, the Jaycettes, maintain garden plots to help enhance the beauty of the school campus. They also enter a project in the annual Homecoming Contest. The Jaycees work for their community by helping the Greensboro Jaycees on many projects. This includes the GGO in which they help in scoring and picking up litter. The Jaycees' main project of the year is providing a scholarship to a deserving senior to help with college expenses. The Jaycettes too encourage community affairs by entertaining the elderly at the Carolina Nursing Center.

Key Club's most appreciated service to GHS is free student-faculty Directory

The Key Club is sponsored by the Greensboro Kiwanis Club. Among the club's major projects are the annual Student-Faculty Directories and the spring vocational project, which supplies students with summer job possibilities. The Key Club also supplies Alma Mater Cards for the sophomores, maintains the information board in front of the school, and sweeps the stadium after the football games. In addition to serving, the Key Club constantly strives to maintain a high level of fellowship and unity among its members by holding football games and picnics with the O. Henry Juniors.

sell and wear POW bracelets*

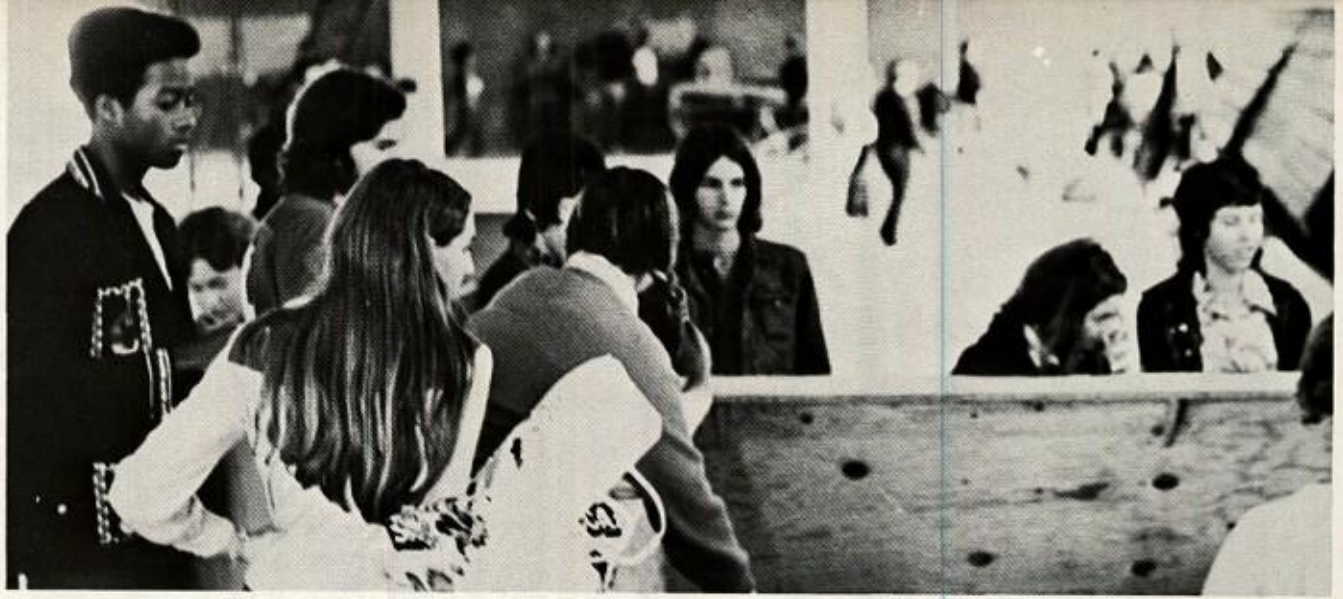

The POW's and MIA's had a strong ally in the Grimsley O. Henry Juniors when, among the club's many community services, they sold and wore POW bracelets. And naturally the girls followed with keen interest the progress of peace efforts and then the return of the prisoners to America.

At Wesley Long Hospital, patients and visitors could see OHJ's doing their volunteer work each Wednesday. Their Saturdays were at least partially taken up with collecting for Crossnore School, TB, MS, and CP drives. To aid the March of Dimes, these girls addressed 10,000 envelopes. At school, in what little spare time they could find, O. Henry Juniors participated in the Student Council's carnival, Homecoming, and all the other nifty school activities service clubs traditionally turn into successes.

Jr. Civitans and Civinettes combine efforts for service and successful projects Civitans and Civinettes have continued their pledge to remain "Builders of Good Citizenship." A Saint Patrick's Day party at Evergreen's Convalescence Home and the delivery of food to folks on a food program kept the sister and brother clubs busy. Civinettes sponsored a school-wide Teacher-of-the-Year election in the spring and collected coupons for Crossnore, a Red Cross sponsored organization which exchanges the coupons for money. Money-making projects included Halloween candy sale for the Civitans and the annual fruitcake sale for the Civinettes, along with booths at the Teenage Carnival in the spring. Tag days, School Beautiful workdays, and collections for Miss Christmas Seal Fund kept them busy Saturdays, while on Sundays they attended churches of different denominations together. Separately and together, Grimsley Junior Civitans and Civinettes consider themselves civic-minded organizations.

Optimist traditions include exciting student-faculty game and popular Carnival booth

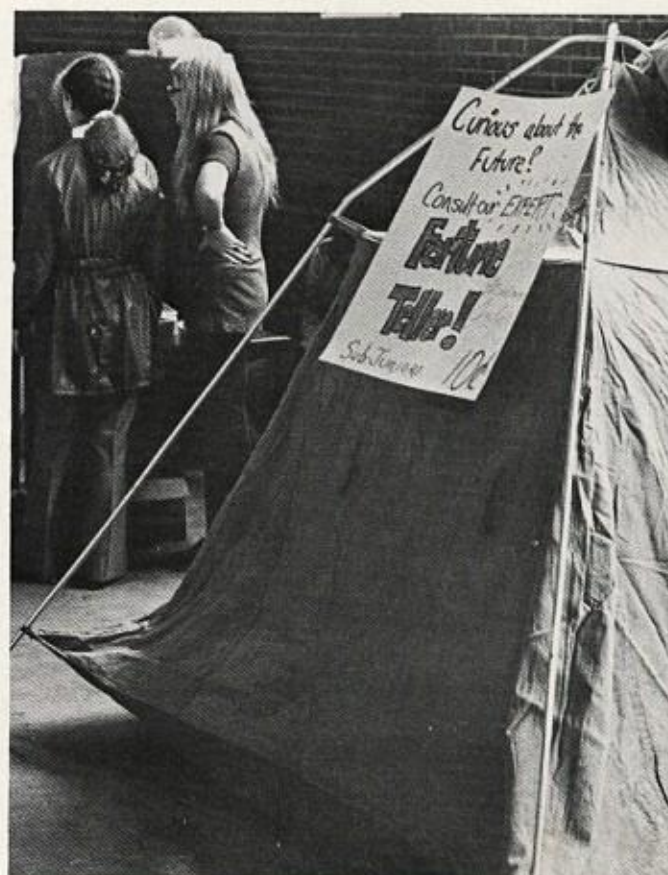

The game of the year is underway once again, Sports Fans, as the faculty and students battle for absolute rule of the halls of Grimsley in the Optimist-sponsored Student-Faculty basketball game. This annual event has become almost as traditional as the Optimist Strip Show held every spring at the Teenage Carnival. (The Optimists have their soft side too, as they donate toys to underprivileged children every year at Christmas.) There goes the last shot . . . and it's no good! The students lose. Oh, well, tune in next year, same time, same place, as you'll hear an incoming sophomore say, “But it's raining! Why go to the beach on Beach Weekend if we can't go swimming?”

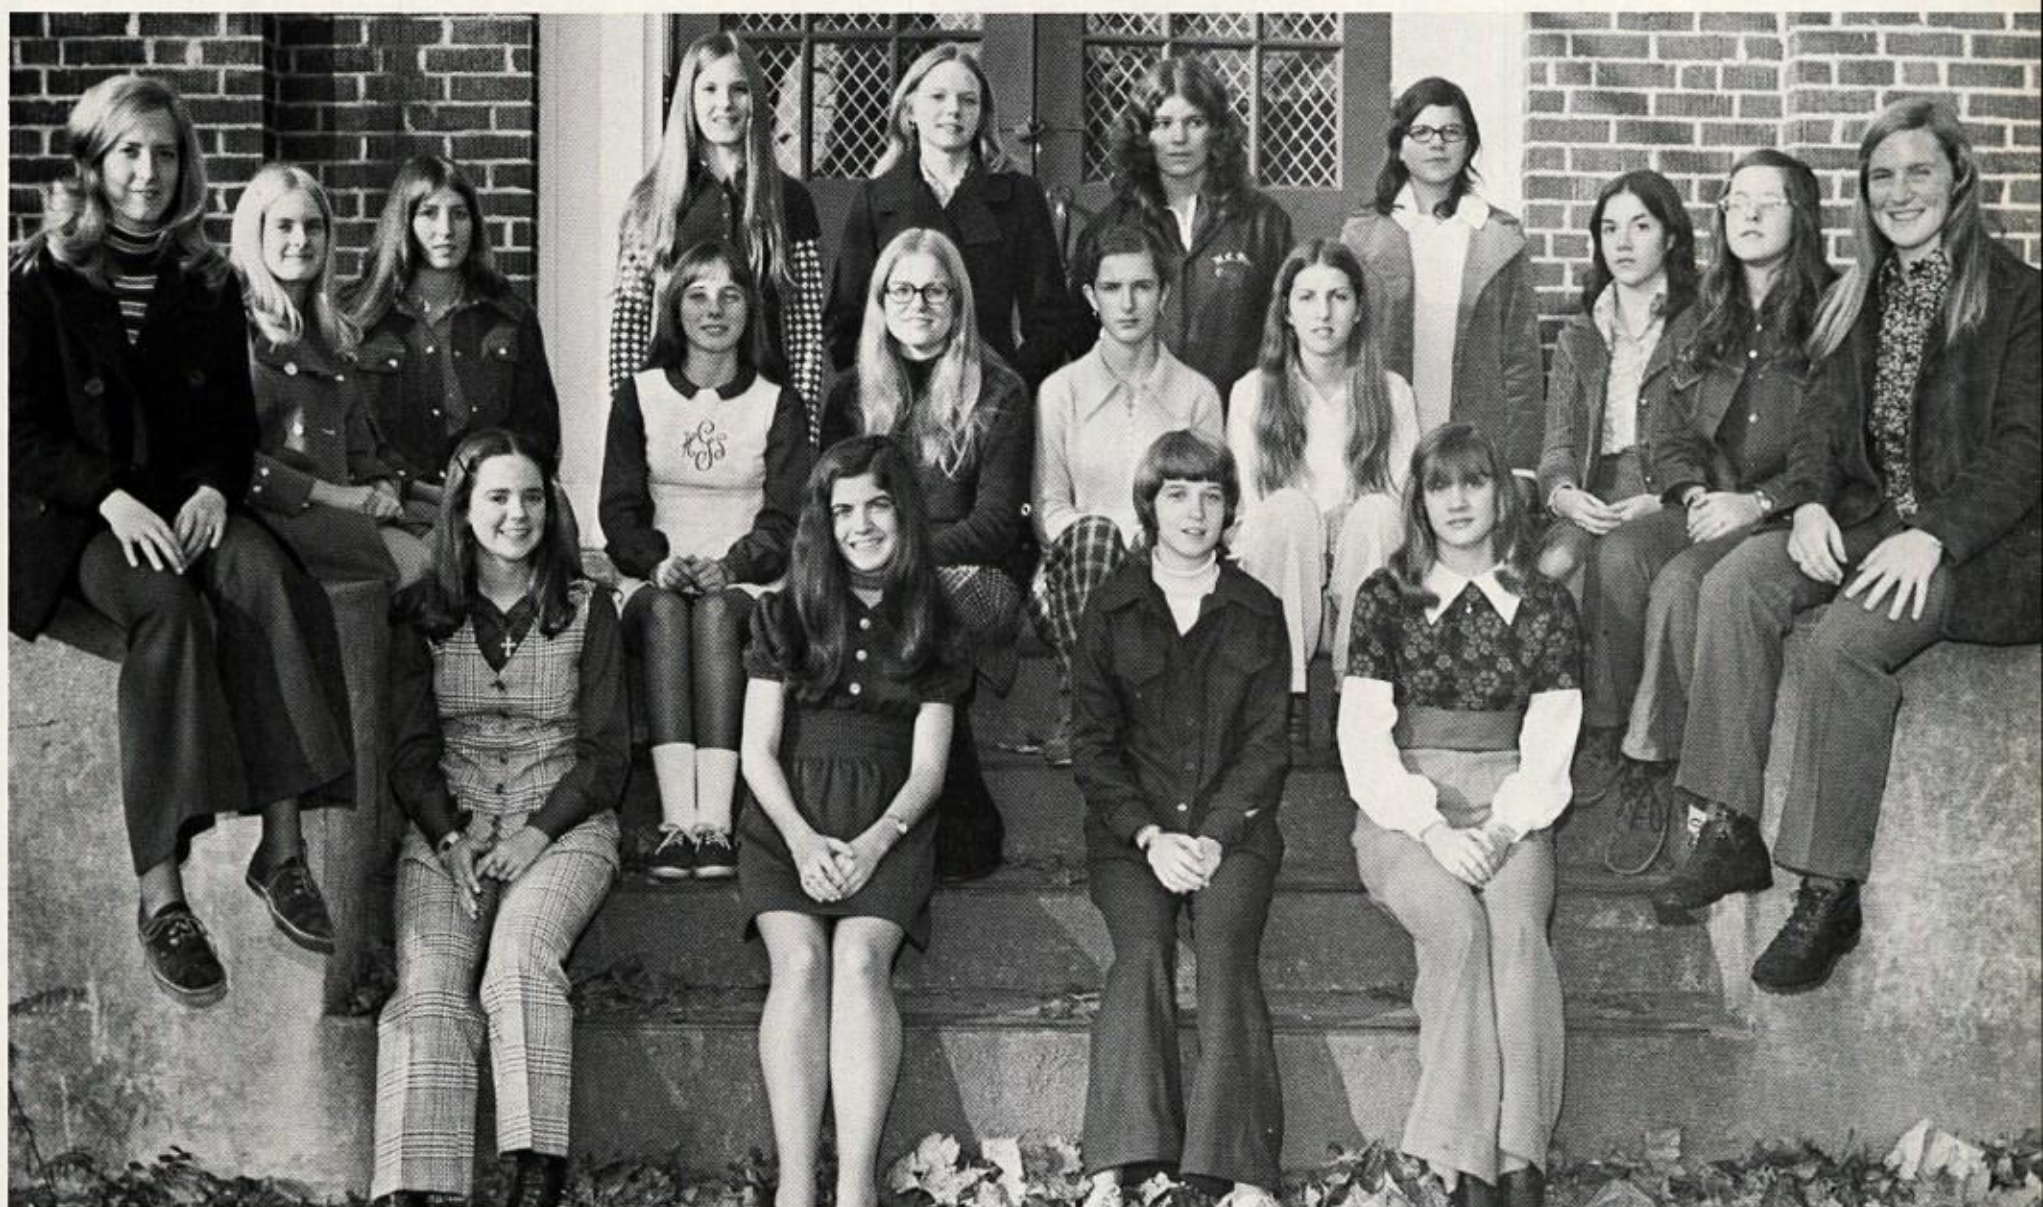

As teacher aides at Brooks Sub-Juniors demonstrate their real desire to serve

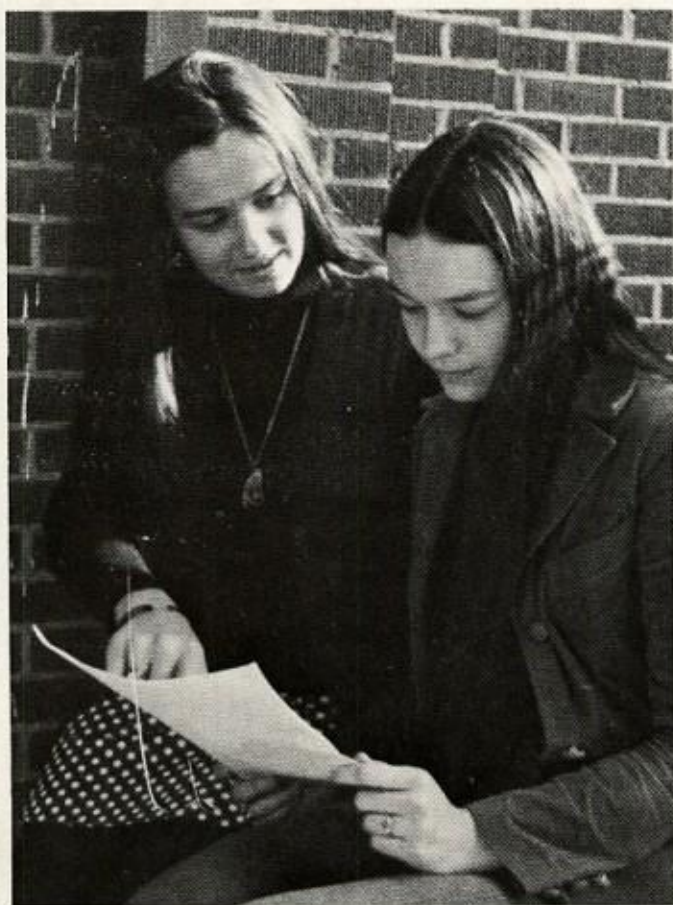

The Sub-Juniors Club at Grimsley, sponsored by O. Henry Women's Club, participated in many programs throughout the school year. Some of their projects were collecting for UNICEF at Hallowe'en and selling UNICEF Christmas cards. During American Education Week they surprised each teacher with an apple. To bring the girls closer together, they visited different worship services as a group each month.

An especially helpful service was the spring semester study hall time some of the girls gave as aides to teachers at Brooks School. Such experiences may prove useful to the girls in making career choices. Another service they did for themselves was a trip to Raleigh this spring to tour our state Art Museum. To further serve and to diversify their efforts, the Sub-Juniors became involved with School Beautiful, Homecoming, and a veterans' hospital.

Jr. Exchange and Exchangettes serve GHS and community, relax at dinners and picnics

Junior Exchange and Exchangettes Clubs have had a highly successful year. While Exchangettes activities ranged from visiting Evergreens Home and Alonzo Towers, to work on their plot during School Beautiful workdays, an Exchange club member was busy spearheading community improvements. Tag Days and picnics took up some Saturday afternoons for the sibling clubs, while on Sundays they attended church together. The Teenage Carnival provided funds for the Exchange Club to purchase megaphones for the Grimsley cheerleaders. Clearly these clubs, aided by their advisors Whisenant and Tamblyn, have become an asset to Grimsley.

Interact Club member returns from year in Norway, joins in club's service projects

A unique distinction this year for Grimsley's Interact Club was Bart McMillan's return from a year in Norway as a part of the Rotary Club's Student Exchange Program. To help spread the benefits of his experiences in international travel and living, Bart spoke and answered questions before various classes at GHS.

The members of Interact, presided over by John Mull, were active in such civic services as Tag Days, in which they collected for Cancer, Tuberculosis, and Heart Funds. And those Grimsley bumper stickers that appeared everywhere — even on car bumpers — were a project of Interact. For still another profitable source of income, the boys raked yards for their neighbors during the fall.

One of the highlights of their year was the Christmas party this club gave for the children in the pediatrics ward at Cone Memorial Hospital. Clearly, both here at GHS and in the community, Interact members were working to show their dedication to "service and international understanding."

The Charioteers' projects include tag days for TB, contributing toys, clothing, and coupons to Crossnore school, collecting candy at Halloween for handicapped children, aiding UNICEF, fighting litter and a Christmas party for children at Cone Hospital. But Charioteers have their share of fun with a Homecoming project, an art festival, a State Convention, and an annual fashion show sponsored by Laurie's.

Hi-Y members market mugs to commemorate Grimsley High and stuff their club treasury

Without the Grimsley Hi-Y service club, this high school would be totally devoid of GHS mugs. Before pondering whether or not this would be any great loss, remember that Hi-Y also sponsors a Christmas party for underprivileged children every year. An annual booth at the Teenage Carnival, and other money-making projects, such as the annual "mugging" provide funds for their various services and activities. After their weekend get-togethers, Hi-Y also recycles trash (can't let old folks see all those cans, now can we?). President Sam Lewis and the twenty-odd (twenty odd?) club members of Hi-Y all work well together, so it has been a very successful year for the YMCA-sponsored organization.

The GHS Y-Teens have hardly had time to breathe all year, what with projects, services, fund-raising, and parties. The every-other-week meetings at some member's house produced plans for such activities as CARE packages, funds for Crossnore school, and parties for underprivileged children. One of their best services was playing bingo with senior citizens — and even without prizes! Y-Teens had a project at Homecoming and a booth at the Teenage Carnival. Their major project was their share of the grand opening celebration for the second floor of the new YWCA, a floor built especially for the youth division of the Y.

Projects for Homecoming and Teenage Carnival highlight this year for Senioresses

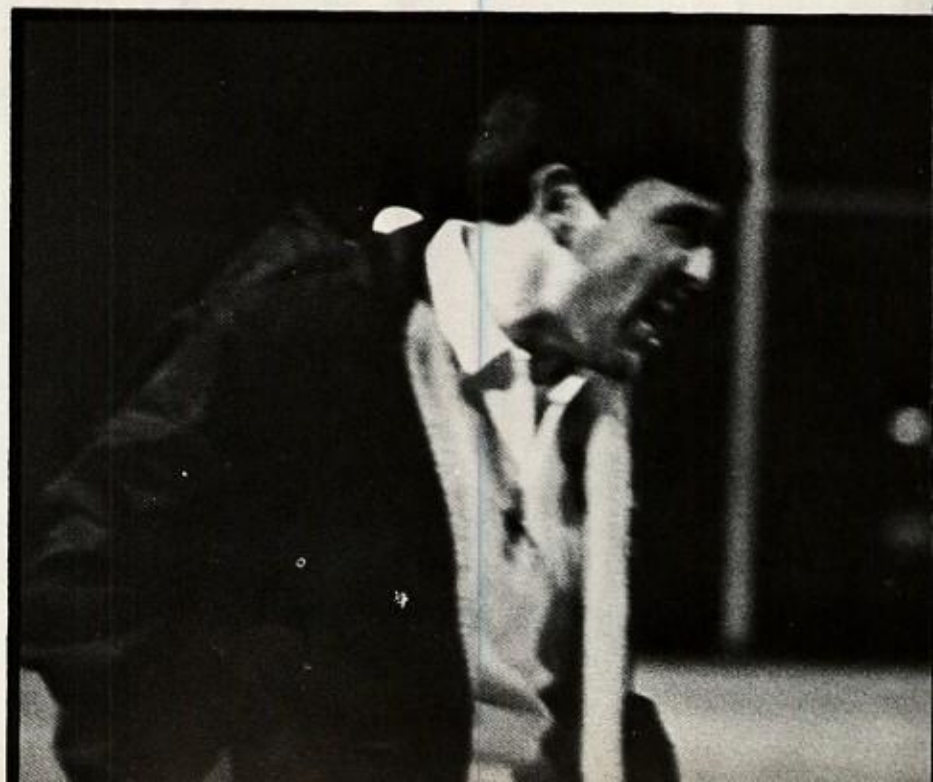

Senioresses is a relatively new club. The purpose of the club is to serve the school as well as the community in as many different ways as possible, and to do this to the best of their abilities. Various activities of the club include parking lot sweeps, tag days, keeping a well-preserved plot, and beginning the idea of having secret pals. For the annual money-making project this year, the Senioressette club sold plastic Christmas ornaments door-to-door during the holiday season. The Senioressette club also participated in the Teenage Carnival and took part in the Student Council Carnival held in the boys' gym.

An often overlooked part of life at GHS is girls' sports. This year many of the female elements of Grimsley's student body strove to attain a new-perfect rating in athletic skills and techniques. Some of the sports emphasized were tennis, volleyball, tumbling, archery, jumping rope, and track.

Outside of class, a basketball team was formed by the girls. After much work in practicing, both collectively and individually, the team was ranked second in the conference. Leading scorers for the team were Ethel White and Donna Gutterman.

In addition a tennis team was also formed. The team consisted of ten girls, all of whose hard efforts led the team to victories. Jean Barnes' outstanding play gave her the second seat in the state in 1972.

Whirlettes produce school spirit at wrestling matches

A group of girls got together at the beginning of the year for the purpose of bringing the attention of the Grimsley student body to an often neglected sport. The GHS wrestlers were rarely able to gain support of their fellow Whirlies. Under the leadership of Suzanne Lasek, the Whirlettes were formed. These girls rarely missed a wrestling match. Their presence, needless to say, helped keep up the wrestlers' spirit. How much improvement the Whirlettes evoked is a subject for speculation. It is sure that they did far from harm for the record of the wrestlers.

Those girls interested in sports and physical fitness are able to participate in Grimsley's Girls' Athletic Association. An outlet for this interest in such skills is provided by activity nights. Once a month, these nights are held at GHS, where the girls come to do what they like best—whether it's basketball, volleyball, or jumping rope.

Along with the physical fitness aspect of this group is the social phase. A covered dish supper was held for new members of GAA to welcome them to the club. To celebrate the Christmas season, GAA held a party where they were able to enjoy each others company.

The highlight of 1972 was a skiing trip, where members of Girls' Athletic Association could enjoy a popular sport. Miss Addison is advisor for GAA, and the president is Ann Deaton.

Energetic cheerleaders show spirit at GHS

A group of dedicated girls are chosen each year as varsity cheerleaders and given the hard job of inducing spirit at all Grimsley's sports events. This year there are ten girls and one head cheerleader, Sherri Blount. New megaphones were bought and painted, in the form of a "G" especially designed by Miss Tamblyn. The able advisor also gave a Christmas party for the cheerleaders.

Pep Board gives enthusiastic support for 72-73 Whirlies

Faced with the task of creating a contagious type of school spirit in the Grimsley student body, this year's Pep Board had its work cut out for it. Spirit Days were a specialty of Pep Board, complete with Little Kiddie Days and Fifties Day. Pep rallies featured the traditional skits and hilarious antics of Pep Board members.

Chairman Dan Franklin was given the job of coordinating the activities of Pep Board and putting some organization into Pep rallies. Doing away with apathy was the job of many organizations, Pep Board included.

Whirling Boots become part of ROTC program

Something new and different hit Grimsley this year—female ROTC members! Grimsley's Whirling Boots have been around as a performing group for several years. However, this year a class period was set aside and the girls took an ROTC course under Colonel Booker. Riflery, first aid, and a program on drugs were included in the course.

The Whirling Boots performed at football, basketball, and Cougar games. Hours were spent on routines created for these events by the hard-working Whirling Boots.

Homecoming win highlights bleak football season

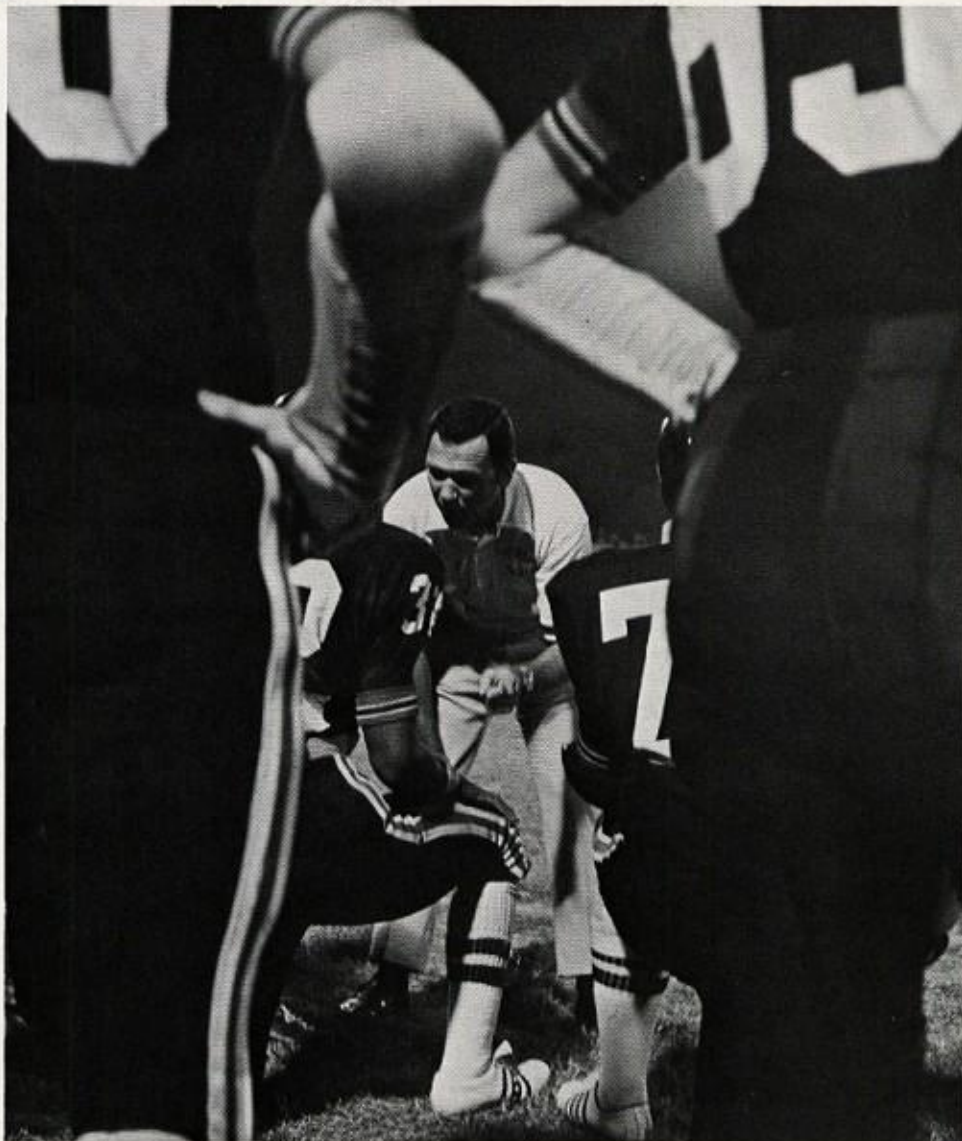

The Grimsley football team started practice in the hot August sun. Much individual talent was displayed by seniors Rick Spencer, Charles Lindsay, Rob Malburg, and sophomore quarterback Jack Wilkins.

The Whirlies opened their season against Raleigh Broughton, and lost their first challenge by a score of 14-3. Our first victory was an away game at Morehead, 19-12.

Winston-Salem Reynolds proved to be a good guest for the Homecoming game. It appeared as though the game was lost until Lindsay scored a touchdown to give the Whirlies a 15-12 lead. Gilyard iced the victory with an interception later in the game.

Many juniors, along with Wilkins, gained much experience by participating this year. This fact should help make next year's varsity team one of the best.

1972 JV Football Team ends season with fine 6-3 record

The Junior Varsity football team finished the season with a fine 6-3 record. They won their first six contests and then dropped their last three. Like the Varsity, the JV's sported a fine defense and often held their opponents to under six points. Promising talent displayed in many sophomores makes Varsity hopes look bright. Among them is running back G. Pinnix, linemen Melvin Williams, Craig Spears, and Joe Hodges, and end Gray Barnhardt. The Whirlies were forced to use three quarterbacks at one time or another, when Jack Wilkins was moved up to Varsity and second team quarterback John Bandy suffered a neck injury. The Varsity team's hopes for next year should definitely be bolstered with the addition of these JVs.

Coach Randall greeted the cross country team in mid-July, and then runners worked every day until their first meet in late September, a dual meet, that they won. Blair Goodman was top man for GHS. The harriers also won their next dual meet, Alan Irvin finishing first for the Whirlies. Grimsley's first loss came in a tri-meet at the hands of powerful North Forsyth, with GHS taking second. The Whirlies finished fifth in the conference meet and fifth in sections, thereby qualifying for the State meet. GHS finished ninth. Irvin, Goodman, Robin Lincks, Eric Miller, Dale Caviness, and Tom Ralls were the top six. The future looks bright in cross country, only one man out of the top ten graduating.

The Grimsley basketball team maintained its prominent four-year record with an 18-5 season. For the third consecutive year, the Whirlies lost the District Championship to Burlington Williams. This game was a true heartbreaker, considering the Whirlies led by as much as ten points until the final three seconds. Seniors Allen, Vance, and Lindsay, selected as All-Conference players, led the team to its numerous victories. According to Coach Jamieson, the other team members were "just as valuable." Throughout the entire season, he interchanged players to consistently come up with winning combinations. Forwards Dunnivant, Cooper and Livingston, along with guards Irvin, Jones, and Rankin will return to next year's team to contribute their note-worthy talents and skills.

A special honor bestowed on this year's team was the selection of Coach Jamieson as Coach of the Year. His years of dedication and outstanding abilities certainly warrant this presentation.

Grimsley's JV-A team bows only to Page, while JV-B's go undefeated

The JV-A Team, with a 15-3 record, exemplified great balance, as 13 players started during the season. There were no outstanding individuals but many good players, who learned a great deal working as a team. According to Coach Jay Randall, if they continue individual practice, several will add valuable talent to next season's varsity squad.

Coach Phil Weaver's JV-B Team built a valuable 15-0 record, averaging 43 rebounds and winning by an average of 20 points per game. This fast team used pressure defense all season and was so well-balanced that every player saw action in all but 3 games. This group too will send the varsity its share of talented players.

GHS Wrestling Team

merits 11-7 record

After the long hours of weight-watching, practice, and instruction, the Grimsley wrestlers came off the mats with a very good season, posting an 11-7 record. The wins and losses were balanced throughout the season until Grimsley defeated five out of their last six opponents. One-sided victories, such as the 48-6 victory over West Forsyth, seemed to be the course for the powerful Whirlies. However, when defeat came, it was by narrow margins usually around three points.

Grimsley had several outstanding wrestlers on its team, made up mostly of juniors and sophomores. Team captain John Benbow posted an 11-4-3 record; Tom Nelson, a 13-2 record; and Glen MacDonald, a 14-2-2 record. Other points-scoring leaders were Rodney James, with a 12-2-2 record; and Tom Ralls, finishing with an 11-0 record.

Whirlie Swimmers take ninth consecutive State Championship

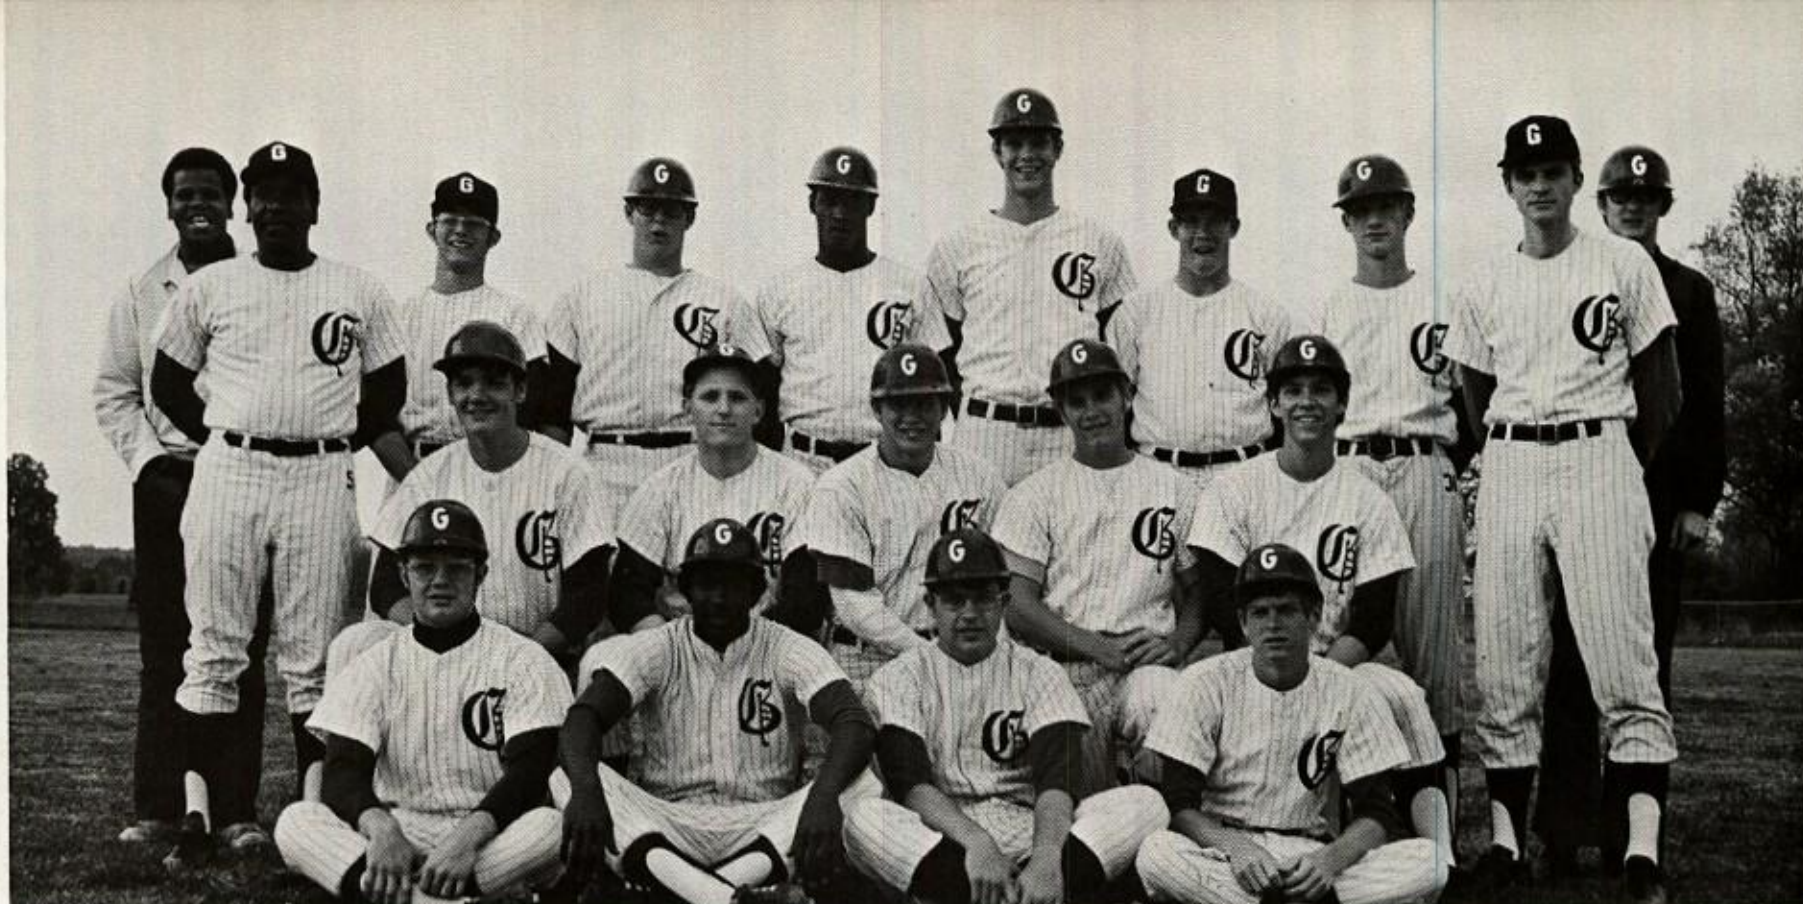

Outstanding ability, determination, strength, confidence, and fine coaching proved to be the winning ingredients for the '73 swimming team. Coach Sawyer juggled sophomores, juniors, and seniors to put together another championship team. The wet wonders went undefeated in high school dual meets, losing only to ECU and Carolina JV's, and State Frosh. To round out a perfect decade, they won a tenth consecutive 4-A Conference meet, winning six of eleven events. Superb swimming by five GHS swimmers set two records: Heinen set a new record of the 200-yard individual medley; Colvard, Byrd, Stafford, and Stancil combined talents to set a 200-yard medley relay record. In the State Meet, Grimsley's team captured its ninth straight State Championship, defeating its nearest rival, High Point, by 22 points.

Coaches Johnson and Weaver guided the varsity baseball team to a remarkable 12-4 season. The Whirlies started off the season with two impressive defeats over Reynolds, but the team's hopes of capturing the conference championship vanished when losing to Smith in a late season defeat.

The team boasted many outstanding athletes. Gray had the highest batting average, slugging an unforgettable one against Dudley at Memorial Stadium; it hit the scoreboard, a distance of 400 feet. Allen and Sharp supplied superior defensive plays, and LeBlang, a splendid catcher, teamed with Hancock to provide excellent leadership. Shoffner, the only sophomore on Varsity, was a starter at left field. The pitching staff, Jones and Williams, played a very significant role in the successful season.

The Whirlie tennis team continued its fine tradition with an admirable 8-2 record. With help from numerous exceptional players, the team placed a well-earned second in the conference and sectional tournaments.

Along with the team, Coach Randall considered the duo of Steve Vaughan and Robbie Brady virtually unbeatable in doubles play. However, an unexpected illness forced Brady out of competition. Mike Hogewood filled in, and along with Vaughan, qualified for the state doubles. Unfortunately, they failed to gain further success. Nevertheless, Hogewood was undefeated during regular season matches. Brady also proved worthy in singles matches, as he posted only one loss.

Other commendable individuals of the team, Rorin Platt, Ken Gibson, and Chip Self, contributed to its outstanding performance. Rorin Platt was the only other senior besides Mike Hogewood, leaving behind Sophomores Ken Gibson and Chip Self, along with the rest of the team, to provide strong support for the next year's victorious Whirlies.

Grimsley's track team boasts a fine finish in 1972

After a lackluster showing in the early season, Grimsley's track team improved rapidly to stage an impressive finish in 1972. The Whirlies then climaxed the year by winning the Sectional meet, capturing second in the Western Regional, and finishing with a tie for sixth place in the State meet.

Strong individual performances highlighted the season, with four school records being set in the process. Winners were Gil Vance in the Discus and the Shot Put; Mike Bailey in the two-mile run; and Danny Wilson, Steve Bushton, Lucky Anderson, and Alan Sienkiewicz in the two-mile Relay. This relay foursome also finished first in the Metrolina Relays, as did the Mile Medley team of Charlie Broadway, John Thompson, Phil Andrews, and Alan Sienkiewicz.

Although the '72 track team opened the season lagging, a great surge of enthusiasm, combined with talent and increasing confidence.

1972 Golf Team takes fourth place in Conference

The 1972 golf team experienced a mediocre record, but had a commendable season considering their competition. Outstanding individual talents aided the team in capturing fourth place in the conference. Ted Sanders, in the weekly tournaments, showed his ability as the most valuable golfer on the team. Other prominent players that contributed to the effectiveness of the team were, in order; Danny Ponton, Wes Strickland, Chip Swart, with Steve Sanders and David Woosley battling for fifth place. First-rate competition forced the Whirlie team out of state competition, but with the loss of only two seniors and the possible acquisition of school transfers and sophomore talent, the Whirlies could become the team to beat in '73.

Greensboro School Board gives qualified approval for GHS science facilities, swimming pool

When the Greensboro Administrators and School Board met once each month, whatever decisions and actions they made were always newsworthy. But to Grimsley students and supporters, the most appealing decisions the Board made were to approve—provided enough funds became available—a swimming pool at Grimsley (to be used by all city high schools), and a plan to bring the GHS science facilities up-to-date—either by renovation or entirely new building and equipment. If funds are found, both projects would be carried out immediately.

When Faculty Club at Grimsley entertains new teachers, (top) Mr. Glenn is principal chef and Dr. House chief guest. (Right) After a Board meeting Superintendent W. J. House and GHS Principal R. L. Glenn discuss with Board Chairman A. S. Lineberry plans for a possible swimming pool at Grimsley. (Below) School Board members and Administrators—Seated: Mrs. Margaret A. Harris, Chairman A. S. Lineberry, H. L. Butler. Standing: Dr. W. J. House, Superintendent; E. F. Lucas Jr., Rev. O. L. Hairston; R. T. Jones, Assistant Superintendent for Business; W. D. Caffrey, Attorney. Absent: Carson Bain.

Our practical PTSA aids Grimsley with indispensable funds, support, and volunteer service

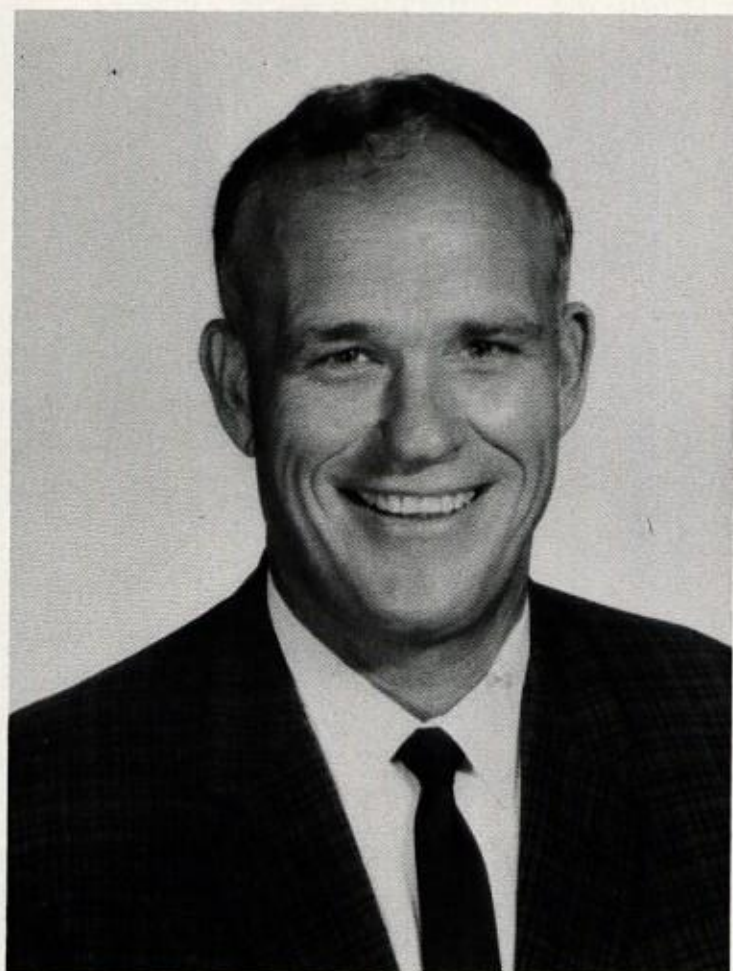

Grimsley's PTSA is the organization through which parents, teachers, and students work together to provide for our school services and funds not available from other sources. Early last fall the PTSA sponsored a reception for teachers, and later an open house.

A major service is the project, headed by Mrs. Martha Knox, to provide volunteer aides in the GHS Clinic to care for students who become ill during the school day. PTSA services also include refreshments and chaperones for student dances, funds for the GHS Media Center, Student Council, and Whirligig. And finally, when ideas and vocal support are needed for Grimsley projects involving the community, PTSA supplies an effective push.

Aware, friendly, concerned, Principal R. Lody Glenn keeps a finger on Grimsley's pulse

As one school year ends for Mr. Glenn, another begins. This year a new group of students brought by buses to Grimsley demanded extra planning and space. A schedule to meet as many needs as possible, organizing home rooms, plans for opening a new school year—these occupied much of Mr. Glenn's summer. To help solve some problems, Mr. Glenn managed to secure several additional teachers by January. He and Mrs. Sigmon created a new course in home economics for boys. A new history course was begun this year. Mr. Glenn expects changes in science courses by next year, with planning already underway.

As a member of Grimsley's PTSA Board and of several other committees and boards for the Greensboro school system, Mr. Glenn's experience and wisdom are called upon frequently. In the time that's left, Mr. Glenn is the Number One Fan at all GHS games, concerts, and plays.

Grimsley's Assistant Principals, Dean, Safety Counselors, and Secretaries find countless ways to lead and serve

Grimsley, with its two thousand students and well over one hundred teachers, secretaries, and administrators, has the potential for dozens of emergencies, on top of an endless variety of daily duties for everyone. To help him cope with the routine work as well as all emergencies, Mr. Glenn is surrounded by several experts, each of whom shares some of his responsibilities.

These helpers spend their time meeting various needs—Mr. Gwynn, student affairs, both activities and discipline; Mr. Ballance, instruction, textbooks, substitute teachers—and discipline too; Mrs. Stanton, student attendance; Mr. Jones and Mr. Gulla, personnel safety; and all other duties not handled by Mr. Glenn himself, two secretaries—Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Jones—take care of.

Assistant Principals (top) are W. Spencer Gwynn, head of student affairs, and James B. Ballance, who directs faculty and instruction. (Below) Both men spend much of every day talking with students, solving problems and planning activities.

When teachers new to Grimsley came to an informal party in the Home Economics building terrace last October and ate hamburgers cooked by Mr. Glenn, Mr. Gwynn, Mr. Ballance, and Mr. Furcron, it was the Faculty Club officers who had planned the party. The Faculty president is Mrs. Yourse, and other officers are Mr. Furcron, Miss Maddox, and Mr. Caines. These officers worked for the whole group again when doughnuts were waiting in the lounge during exams and "work days".

If any teacher were bereaved or became ill, got married or had a baby, Faculty Club dues provided flowers or a gift. In May a party with a nostalgic program and gifts honored teachers who retired this year.

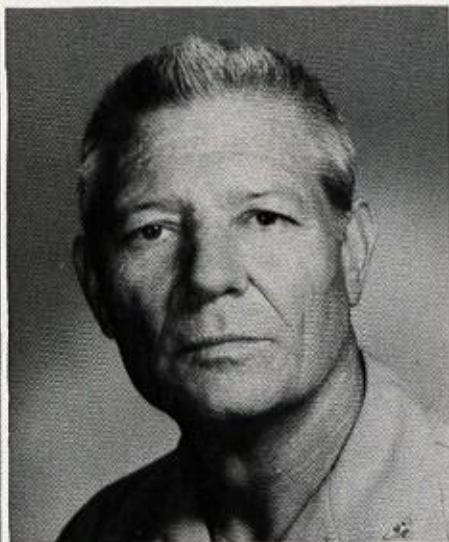

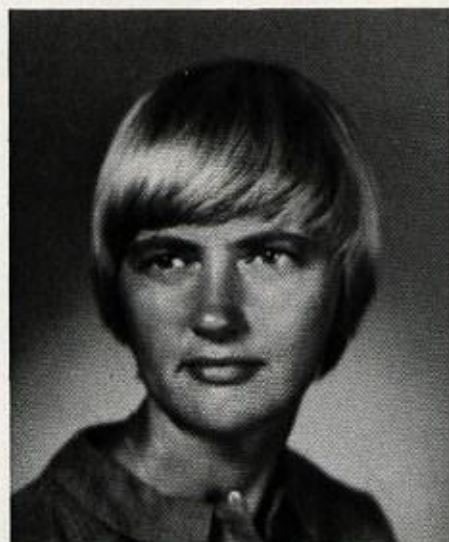

As a happy climax to the year, the Faculty Club gave a festive reception at the UNC-G Alumnae House in honor of Grimsley's 1973 graduates.

Sophomores, from a hodge-podge of junior highs, bring confidence, athletic prowess, and ideas

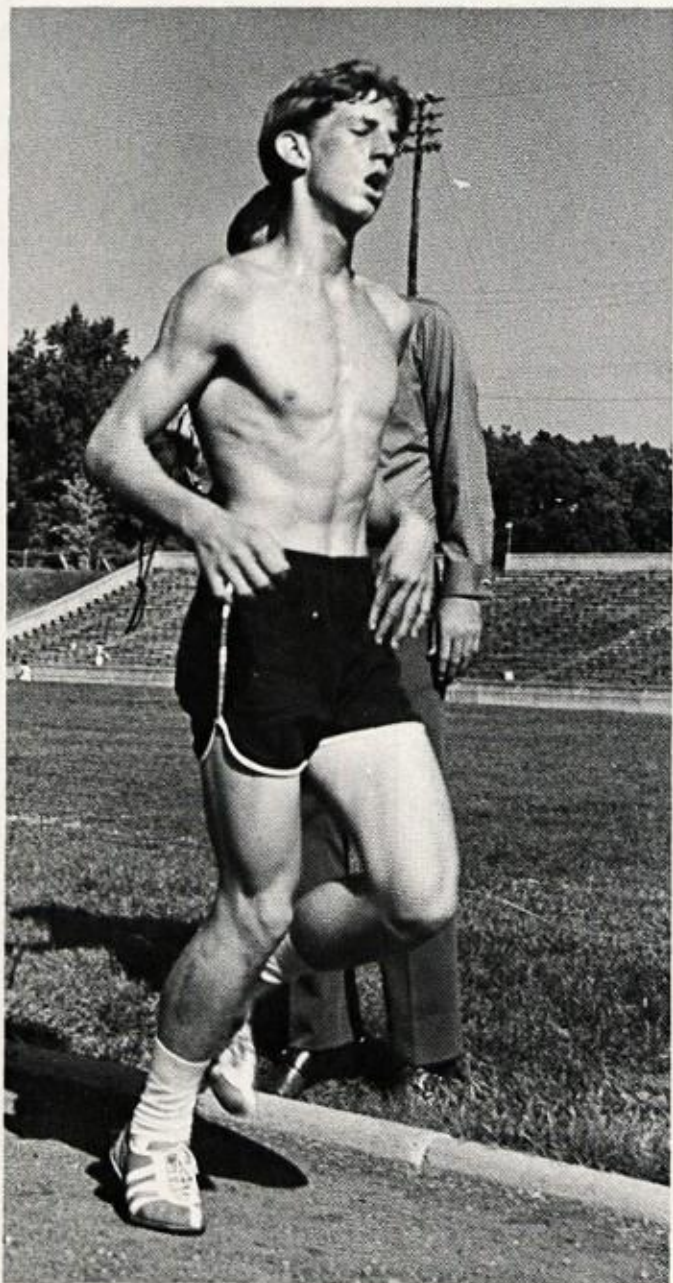

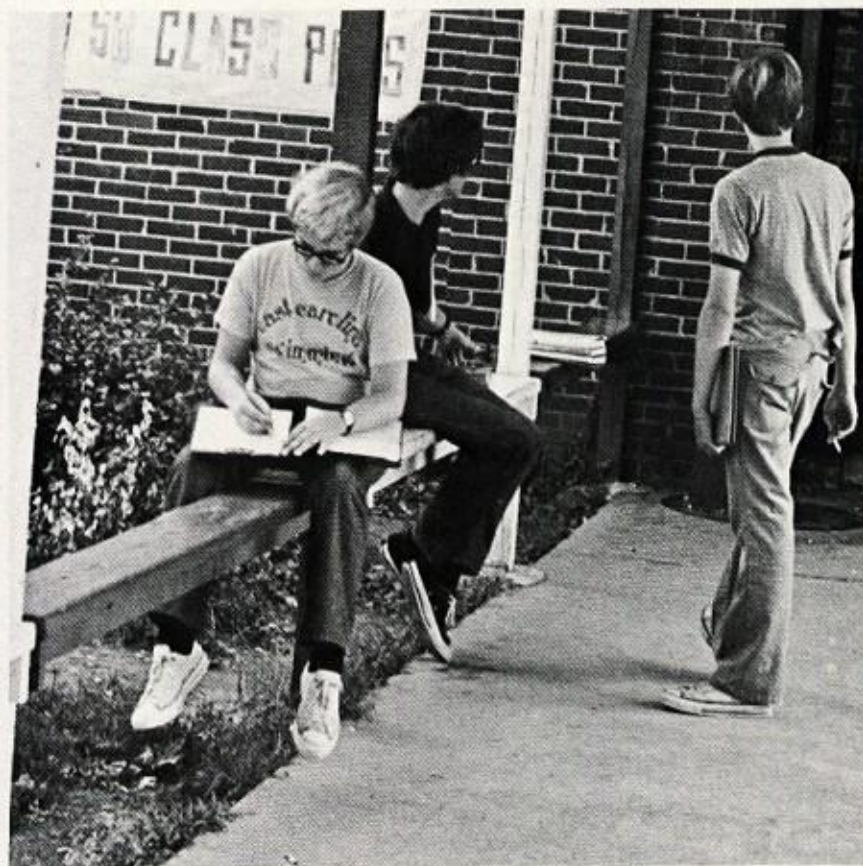

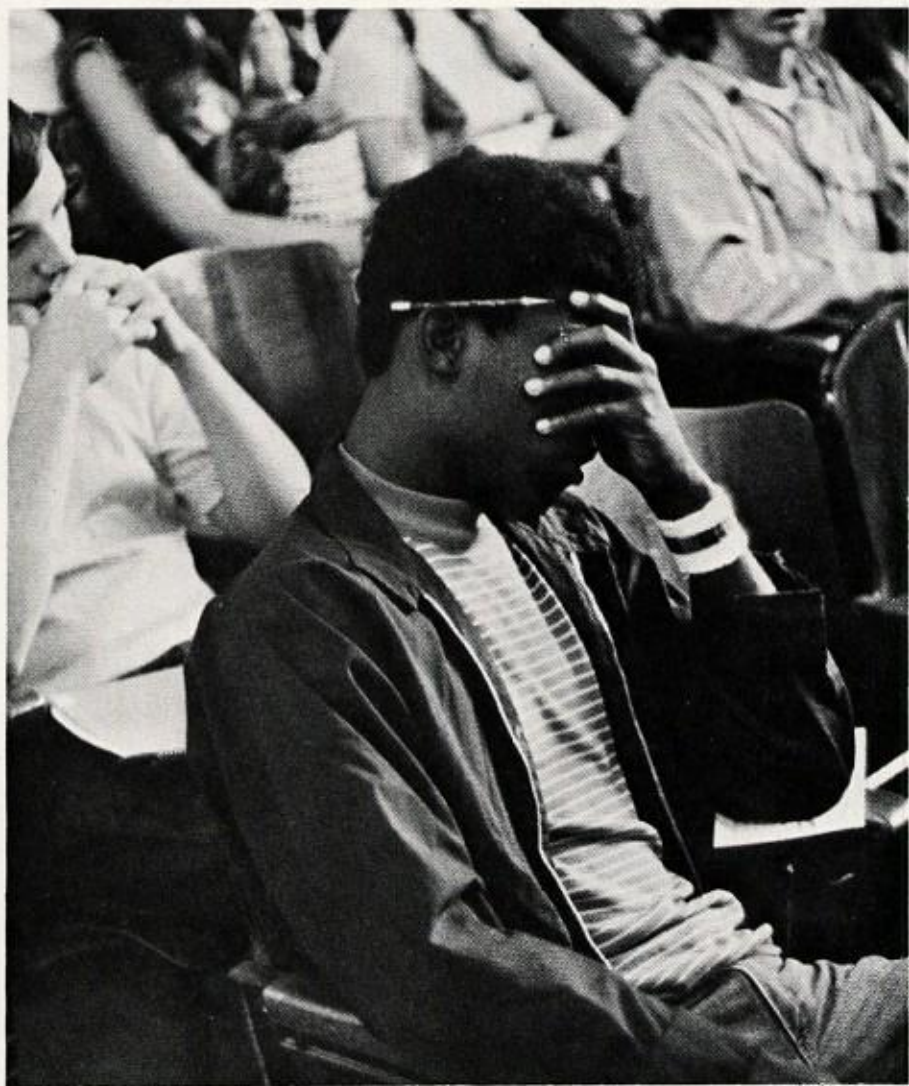

In late August of 1972, around seven hundred new, innocent, and totally uninitiated people converged on Grimsley from various junior high schools all over Greensboro. Only slightly awed, yet somehow very proud to be here, they milled around for a while outside, wondering what so many buildings were used for, and anticipating some great innovations they would make in their three years at GHS.

Although only a handful of Sophomores ran for class officers and Student Council, such apathy toward governing was not reflected in other Sophomore activities. Class spirit was evident in sales of pencils, sweatshirts, and, later, sweets at a class bakesale. In December Sophomores were made familiar with the school service clubs, and many were initiated into clubs. Especially in sports, this year's Sophomores outdid themselves—in football and cross country particularly.

It has been an exceptionally confident and unified Sophomore Class this year. Next year's Junior Class should be dynamite!

Juniors look back and ahead to great things

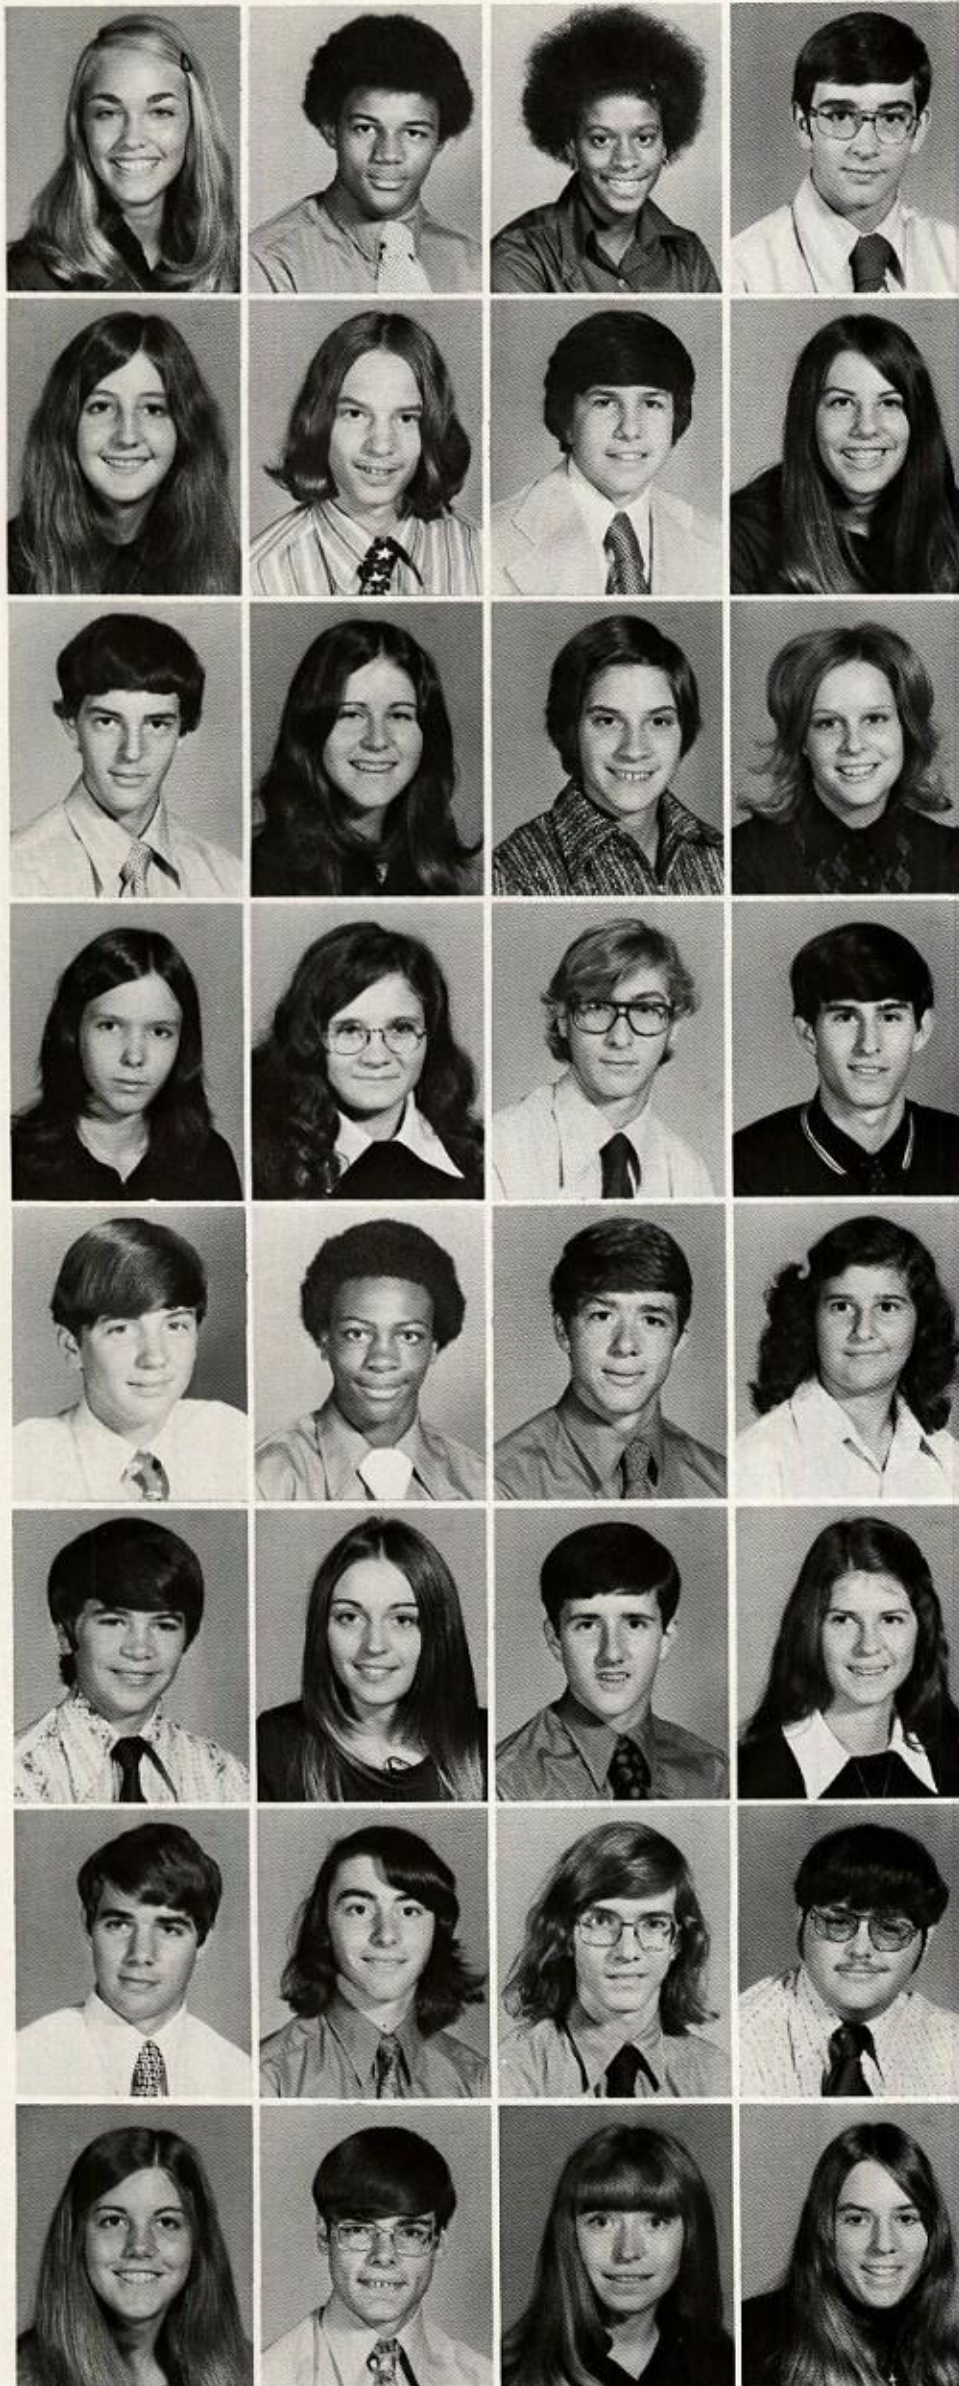

Here I sit on my little raft
 In the middle of the scholastic ocean . . .
 In front I see another year of High School:
 Senioritis, graduation, jobs, and college way off on the horizon.
 Behind me I see Sophomore pencils, class rings, PSAT's, and a really good Junior Class Play.
 It gets kinda lonely way out here
 when the waves are dark and the sky is grey . . .
 Sometimes, though, I see a beautiful tropical fish and an occasional seagull, come back to marvel over the fascinating sights ahead on the distant shore.
 And, although I'm not exactly sure what lies ahead for me personally,
 I know it's worth it!

Juniors (above) participate totally in every area of their school life—from club social meetings to sports to mentally demanding PSAT's. (Left) Nothing epitomizes the Junior year better than a class ring and the play. (Below) The Junior class play "Meet Me in St. Louis" reaches a crucial moment. (Below left) In complete concentration, a Junior appears to enjoy doing a difficult assignment.

For Seniors —
"growing, changing — life never stays the same"

I asked a departing senior, "What will you always remember about your high school years?"

"I suppose I'll always remember the moods . . . the instantaneous changes from blue to gloriously triumphant, or from sullen to highly indignant. I'll remember the sheer beauty of the school, and how it seemed to grow more beautiful with each passing year. I'll remember the schedules, the lunch times, the Dean's office, the exams . . . WOW! those exams! . . . and the snow days. Long after the book-learning has faded away, however, I'll remember the people . . . the growing up we did together, although sometimes painful and lonely, the harmony of working in unison, and the sad feeling at the end that life will never again be the same as those carefree, kaleidoscopic high school years."

A spring day finds this senior (top) mulling over college plans, others (above) working diligently on Science projects, and one (left) scrambling to catch the bus.

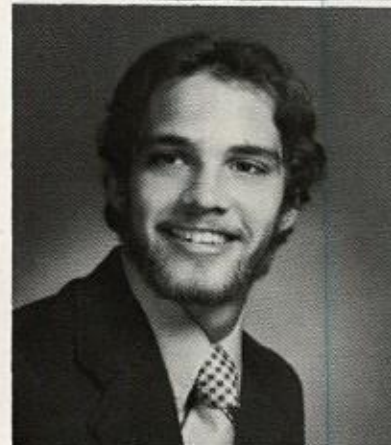

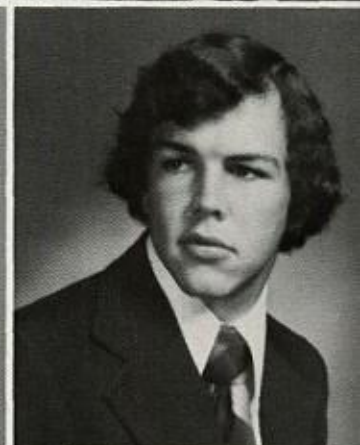

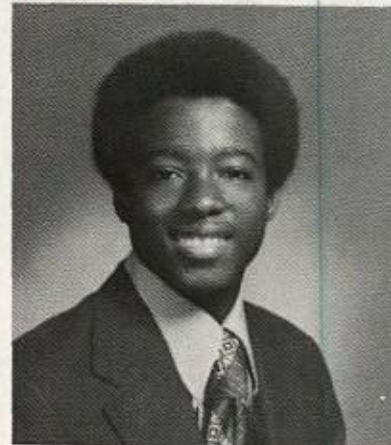

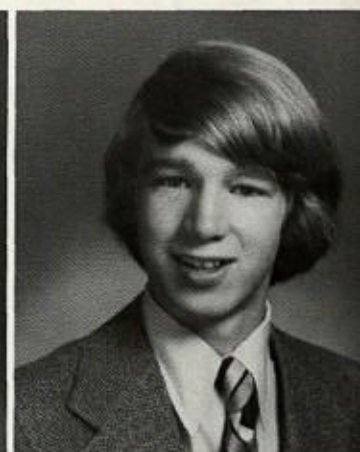

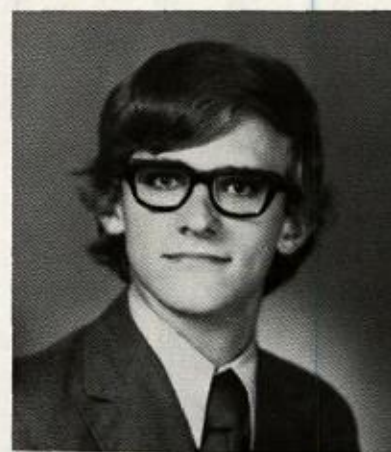

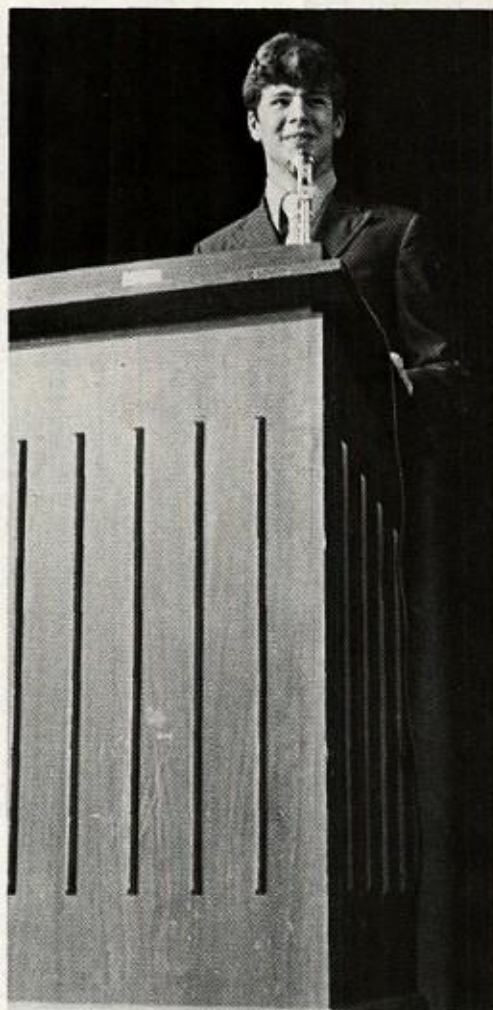

Senior Class Officers (right) are Edwards, Winfree, President Malburg, Gladney. Fall and spring days were just made for sitting around (above) or walking and talking with friends (below).

This year is drawing to a close. During our three years of work on the yearbook staff, and especially this year, we have striven to delve into the feelings and ideas of Grimsley people. This book is the product of our work. There is no choice of color, word, or photograph which we regret. We and the WHIRLIGIG staff give you this book proudly and hope that it represents your point of view of Grimsley life. To the following people, we wish to express our deep appreciation:

Mr. Malcolm Miller of Martin's Studio
Mr. Carol Martin of Martin's Studio
Mr. Frank Fleming of Delmar Printing Company
Mrs. Lorene Fairfax of Delmar Printing Company
Mrs. Betty Hand of Meyer's Studio
Mr. Garland Gentry of School Pictures, Inc.
Mr. R. Lody Glenn, Principal
Mr. James B. Ballance
Mr. W. Spencer Gwynn
Mrs. Martha Hundley
Mrs. Gayle Bowers
Charlie White
Wendy Dawson
Bobby Edmonds
Robin Lincks
John Kornegay
Jeff Long

And especially to Miss Virginia Powell, whose patience, endurance, and selflessness are the essence of this book.

We looked over the cover with our friend, Mr. Fleming, in October.

I, WE HAD A SUPER TIME IN LOMEROOM THE LAST TWO YEARS. GIVING MRS. CE
KELL WAS GREAT. EVEN THOUGH
YOU'LL BE WORKING 8 HOURS
A DAY THIS SUMMER, MAYBE WE CAN GET TOGETHER AND HAVE SOME FUN. HOPE WE'LL GET IN SOME CLASSES TOGETHER
NEXT YEAR AND I'LL SEE YOU
A BIT THIS SUMMER. FIRST, I HOPE YOU MAKE IT THROUGH TODAY.

EXEC. PRES.

Grimsley High School

jay,
We have got to go to the ends of the earth until every last person (white person, that is) is a really big bigot. We cannot allow this black outrage to go on.
I hope we have some classes together next year so we can raise hell. Let's really have a great time and get drunk a lot this summer. The bell just rang. I gotta go.

John

jay,

you be a good little NIGGER

jay,
It's been a long, rough year,
but we made it thru
Sevel III under Wittemore.
Too bad athletes in action couldn't have beaten out the Bassiers. Set Drumpf! See ya' next year, or maybe sometime during the summer. If you need someone to drink with, I'll probably be at McDonalds.
That's it,
Henry Harwell

Jay,

you suck.

We were doing it up in gym this year and coming to school in the morning. The guy sitting beside me said Kevin. Thanks for all the rides to and from school.

Bibb

THIS IS TRUE!

AHHH! What a devious sound.
Advanced Comp. was obnoxious to say the most. It was totally incompatant, irrellevant and immaterial and/or created a certain rectaploidness in my cerebrum. However The back of the class provided some zoarity in the drome of the Average boring day with Mrs. G. Thanks,
I needed that. Always remember:
Grasshopper - does it not?
But - Master!!!

Jay,

We all know how much you liked
Mr. Whittemore and all of his wonderful speeches, speeches, speeches, speeches...
Of course you voted for him as Teacher of the Year. Hope I can race you this summer.

P.S. Why don't you ever wear socks to school!!!!!!

Jay

It's been a great year. PE has been a blast. Stay cool, this summer.
You are a pretty good guy and a heck of a basketball player.
Raise hell and get cropped is what I leave you with.

Your friend
Ted Fowler

Woof, (I mean Jay)

I've enjoyed being in P.E. with you these past 2 years. You are one of the greatest guys that I've ever run across at the big "G".
You are also one of the best athletes^{"5" sp.}. If you'd stayed in Larry's class, you'd also be one of the greatest mathematicians.

Have a great summer and don't let Chris H. get a hold of your body.

"Your Boy"
Doug J.

WELL JAY YOU SWEETIE
I WOULD LIKE TO SAY YOU ARE A GOUT ATHLETE BUT REALLY YOU'D NOT, SO I WONT SAY THAT. TO BE ABSOLUTLY HONET YOUR FAIR, NOT GOOD FAIR. I SEE YOU IN NEIGHBORHOOD
YUR BUDDIES
CRANWICKER

July,

Well, another year is about over.
It's almost time for our two beach trips (I'm already thirsty!). This has been a great year and I'm glad that I finally got in school with Big "J". Maybe we will be able to get in homeroom next year.
It's been a real "blast" in Parkers room. I can't wait to get out of that stinking (I mean it) class.
We'll be seeing you at church
I guess. Work hard this summer.

Your friend and fellow Quaker

Walt Gullidge

P.S. - If we ~~got~~ to the lake I am going to ski (I hope!)

P.S.2 - When you asked me to go to the beach "you made me an offer, I couldn't refuse." I'll take advantage and drink dat brew."

← Aaahhh

Jay,
Two straight years together in HR! I don't know if I'll be able to stand it for a third. But despite our political and moral differences, my respect for you has not lessened in the slightest. There is a certain honesty and simplicity of character about you which I admire. Perhaps my luck in HR will continue and maybe even in a few classes. Let's hope that Watergate will get worse!

In all Sincerity,
Newell

"Your Mamma's Mug"

That's all I gotta said;
isn't that enough?

Life is no good without friends
my

Have a great summer!
lets
Have to say I know
I don't have cause I know
get together, "We'll consume"
we will "We'll consume"
Fine as wine,
Chris

P.S. Thanks for all the rides out to lunch, if you didn't give me I wouldn't be big enough to play football...
Get ready for Blues' Rod shop

Just
well only me year was really
This year was really something I hope to see you again next year on the Cougars. Well see ya next year and maybe some this summer.
Steve K
P.D.

Jay,
Sorry I
wrote the first so little
This down-speech is a what? Mr.
Whittemore is drunk, come see me
If you're lunch. Thanks for coaching me on Kathie. Too bad we lost.
This year I has been a riot. Tell your brother I said "Hi". For the second time, Have fun and see ya this summer,
Henry Harwell
